HAMILTON JURY STILL OUT

No Sign That an Agreement Is at Hand—
Four Verdicts Are Possible
Under the Charge.

Minneapolis, Feb. 19.—There is yet no sign from the jury in the Hamilton case that an agreement is at hand. The jury is apparently taking its time in arriving at a verdict. Its members retired last night about 11 and Judge Brooks went home satisfied that there would be no news before morning. This morning at 8 the jury went to breakfast, and nothing has leaked out from the jury room to indicate whether any ballots had been taken or how the jury was divided. Under the charge four indictments are possible—murder in the first or second degree, manslaughter and acquittal. Hamilton retains his composure remarkably well, despite the awful suspense. He is still confident of acquittal. (Earlier report on page 7.)

A WOMAN KILLED IN A RAID

Wife of Saloon Keeper Shot and One of the Raiders Wounded In An Attack On Kansas Saloon.

Leavenworth, Kan., Feb. 19.—Mrs. Rose Hudson, wife of John Hudson, a "joint keeper" at Millwood, fourteen miles north of this city, was shot and instantly killed last night during a raid upon her husband's saloon. One of the raiders was slightly wounded. Hudson had been warned to close his place, but refused. About 10 o'clock three men entered and called for drinks. When served they rapped on the counter, evidently to give a signal. Hudson jumped from behind the bar and grappled with one of the men. In the scuffle a shotgun which one of the men carried was discharged. The contents entered the wall. Mrs. Hudson, attracted by the noise, ran screaming into the room, while a mob of forty men, most of whom were masked, entered in answer to the signal. In the melee that followed another charge was fired from the shotgun. It struck Mrs. Hudson, tearing off the top of her head. William Webb, one of the raiders, was struck in the shoulder by a revolver bullet. Nearly 100 shots were fired. Hudson carried his dying wife into an adjoining room and the mob retired without wrecking the joint. Sheriff Everhard, who went to Millwood, has secured four prisoners, two of whom are John and Henry Wilson, young farmers. There were no women in the mob, which was composed of farmers in disguise. There is much excitement today and further trouble is anticipated.

CUDAHY KIDNAPER CAUGHT

One of the Three Men Arrested By Omaha Police and Positively Identified By Young Cudahy and Others.

Omaha, Neb., Feb. 19.—One of the three men in the Cudahy kidnapping plot has been arrested. Edward Cudahy, Jr., this afternoon positively identified the prisoner. He said: "This is the man who asked me to get into the wagon. There is no doubt about it; he is the man." Although the police refuse to divulge the prisoner's name, Edward Cudahy, the millionaire packer, who paid $25,000 in gold for the release of his son, this afternoon stated to the Associated Press that the man under arrest has been identified by his son as the man who carried him in front of the Cudahy residence, and who kept him company in the house to which he was taken on the night of the abduction. Mr. Cudahy said the prisoner also has been identified by one of the servants, who saw the letter demanding the ransom thrown upon the Cudahy lawn, and by another person whose name he will not make public for the present. Much mystery surrounds the arrest of the alleged kidnapper. Not until this afternoon was a word permitted to be made public in the case, although it has been learned that the arrest was made Saturday night. Two local officers are said to have made the capture. The prisoner is said to have been under surveillance for some time, as it was believed he had been writing letters concerning the case. When the detectives had fully satisfied their suspicion, they placed the man in the city jail. Separate interviews with the three persons mentioned strengthened the belief that one of the principals was in custody, and the partially veiled announcement of his arrest followed.

NO EXTRA SESSION LIKELY

That Is What Gen. Grosvenor of Ohio Asserts and He Has Talked With President McKinley Recently.

Washington, Feb. 19.—(Special to The Herald.)—Gen. Grosvenor of Ohio said today that he did not anticipate there would be an extraordinary session of the Fifty-seventh congress.

"I can see no reason," said the Ohio representative, "why President McKinley will be forced to call an extra session. I have maintained right along that an extra session can be avoided, and I am more strongly convinced today than at any time in the past that the president will not assemble the new congress in the early spring, or at any time before the summer session."

Gen. Grosvenor, as is well known, is one of President McKinley's most influential advisers, and has been in the whole matter with President McKinley very recently. He doubtless has a pretty good idea of the president's intentions.

LITTLE COUNTRY IS RUDE

Chances Are That Uncle Sam May Have to Give Venezuela a Sound Thashing Before Very Long.

The Venezuelan Government Has Been Guilty of Grave Offense to the United States on Several Occasions.

Port of Spain, Island of Trinidad, Tuesday, Feb. 19.—A correspondent of the Associated Press has returned from a ten days' stay in Caracas, Venezuela, where he went to investigate the Venezuelan system. The outlook, as one sees it at the Venezuelan capital, is not good. There is a feeling of apprehension in the air. The Castro government becomes more unpopular, and hostility to it is talked rather freely, and the substantial and solvent people of the community condemn the government's attitude toward the New York and Bermudez Asphalt company. The New York and Bermudez company, the correspondent is informed, is quietly gathering a strong force of well-armed and well-drilled men at the pitch lake. These men are under the command of Maj. Rafferty, formerly of the Seventy-first New York regiment, a brave and efficient officer. They will resist all encroachment, whether made by government or revolutionary troops. The United States gunboat Scorpion has been ordered to the pitch lake, with orders not to allow the company to be disposed prior to the conclusion of the judicial investigation of the case now being made in Washington. The Venezuelan government is endeavoring in every possible way to persuade the New York and Bermudez company to resort to the tribunals. The refusal of the company to adopt that course is based upon the knowledge that in Venezuela the president or dictator changes the judges in a night, and injures them if they do not give the judgments they are bidden to give. The correspondent talked with five diplomats in Caracas. They all asserted that the United States government had acted with great prudence and with a degree of forbearance that almost ceased to be a virtue. They spoke highly of the United States government. Minister Loomis had met a delicate and difficult situation. The diplomatic side of this business is most important and interesting. The United States, receiving all of the legal records and facts in the controversy between the Venezuelan government, desired to make a complete set of laws of Venezuela, some sixteen volumes. Pending the outcome of this investigation, they asked the Venezuelan government, as a matter of courtesy between friendly nations, to kindly suspend the operation of the decrees disposing of the New York Bermudez company until an investigation could be made. This the Venezuelan government declined to do. The request was repeated and again refused. It was then made a third time, in an emphatic manner, by Minister Francis B. Loomis. In fact, it was put as a sort of vigorous demand the third time, but the result was the same. Then a protest was made, and that was ignored by the Castro government, though it had ample power and authority to meet any and all of these demands if it saw fit. The trouble over the asphalt is only one of a large number of incidents in which the Venezuelan government has recently been guilty of grave offense to the government of the United States. Three months ago the consular agent of the United States, at Barcelona, was thrust into prison without cause. The United States government demanded an apology, but has not yet received it. A year earlier the same consular agent was arrested and threatened with torture if he did not pay a large sum of money to local military officials. A few months ago a German merchant at Barcelona was tortured by officials there for the purpose of extorting money from him. The German government sent a cruiser there at once and got satisfaction and kept the vessel four months in Venezuelan waters. The Italians have had men-of-war in Venezuelan waters for the most of the time for a last year the American consul at La Guaira was attacked and his life threatened. The United States government has never received satisfactory reparation for that.

FOUR FIREMEN ARE KILLED

They Were Buried Under Falling Walls at New Haven While a Packing House Was on Fire.

New Haven, Conn., Feb. 19.—The search for bodies in the ruins of the old Judson packing house, on Canal street, which was burned shortly after midnight, was continued for hours after the flames were extinguished, resulting in the definite knowledge that four firemen, whose mangled bodies were pulled from under the debris of the fallen walls while the fire was in progress, were the only victims. These firemen were:

HAS MADE A GOOD RECORD

Ex-Governor Merriam's Management of Census Bureau Has Been Successful—Less Complaint Than In Former Years.

Washington, Feb. 19.—(Special to The Herald.)—Former Governor Merriam, of Minnesota, and present director of the United States census, is looked upon here as having managed this important business in a more successful way than any of his predecessors.

The work of taking the present census has been in many respects completed. So far as the population statistics are concerned, the work was pushed more rapidly under Director Merriam's management than has been the case within the memory of men in this city and throughout the country in having the most correct returns made in the least possible time.

The statement is made in behalf of Governor Merriam that he has had less trouble in having returns of cities than any superintendent or director of the census who has preceded him. That he has had less friction in taking the present census than Robert P. Porter had in 1890 is conceded everywhere. It is also conceded by both Republicans and Democrats that Director Merriam's plans not only in taking a correct count of the population of the United States, but of taking other statistics of interest to the people of the country generally, demonstrated that his management displayed better judgment than did Porter's, who was and is now classed as a prominent statistician, a man can be and ordinarily better qualified than was Merriam to conduct this great bureau. Less complaints have been received at the census bureau regarding population statistics than has been the case at the taking of any census in the past history of the government. There was a little trouble between Seattle and Tacoma in Washington state in 1890. Va., made a protest some time ago against the count made by Director Merriam's agents, and Parkersburg, W. Va., is the latest complaint against the count made of its inhabitants by the bureau's enumerators.

SPECIAL TAX COMMISSION

Bill Provoked Lively Debate In the Senate, But Was Finally Adopted By a Very Decisive Vote.

Senator Hawkins' Resolution Passed For Committee to Meet Wisconsin Legislators to Arrange Uniformity of Vessel Taxation.

St. Paul, Feb. 20.—(Special to The Herald.)—The tax commission bill was a special order at 11 o'clock, and precipitated a lively debate. Senator Underhill led the discussion in favor of the bill, explaining its provisions and citing the experience of various other states with such commissions. Senator McCarthy attacked the bill, saying he did not believe a commission was necessary, but that the senate and house themselves should—as a part of the duty for which they had been elected—correct defects in the tax laws. The tax laws, he said, were defective in themselves; the trouble was they were not enforced. Senator McCarthy made an impassioned speech in favor of the bill, stating that in Itasca county alone enough property escaped taxation to pay the entire cost of the state government. Senator Knutson opposed the bill, and Senator Young spoke in its favor, as did Senator Stockwell.

The bill then came up on its final passage, and a call of the senate was demanded. This disclosed a quorum, and proceedings under the call were suspended until after the adjournment. With but four negative votes—Knutson, McGovern, Schaller and Viesselman. The bill as amended by the senate provides for a commission of three, to be appointed by the governor, state auditor and attorney general, who shall submit a revision of the tax laws by March 1, 1902, and shall receive a compensation of $2000 each. The body is to be a permanent one, but is to incorporate in the measure reported a provision for the removal of any commissioner. Senator Miller had the measure amended to provide for a report on Feb. 1. It was stated in debate that a special session of the legislature would likely be called to consider the measure reported by the tax commission.

The senate passed the following bills on the calendar:

Knutson—Appropriating $44,000 for distribution among state, high, graded and rural schools.

Myran—Providing for municipal courts in villages of over 2000.

Thompson—Providing that members of the legislature who have served four or more terms and have studied law for six months may be admitted to practice law on passing examinations before district judges.

McCall—Prohibiting corporations, except railroads and canal companies, from holding more than 5000 acres of land.

McCall—Providing that no person shall erect monuments to mark position of Minnesota troops at Vicksburg and Appomattox.

Collier—Increasing fees paid from the grand and petit jurors to $3 per day and $100 per month.

Brower—Regulating common carriers to maintain freight and passenger stations.

Snyder—Allowing city councils to call special elections for the submission of the initiative and referendum to 5 per cent of the voters.

In committee of the whole bills were recommended to the senate by the following:

Chilton—Regulating marriage, prohibiting marriage of imbeciles and insane.

McKusick—Relating to descent of real estate.

Hawkins—Redistricting St. Louis.

THE HOUSE.

St. Paul, Feb. 20.—(Special to The Herald.)—Governor Van Sant today notified the house that he had approved the bill repealing the special law fixing the salary of Carlton county's probate judge. Only two bills were introduced, as follows:

Knutson—Providing $3 per diem and mileage for grand jurors.

Hinton—To repeal subdivision 10 of section 1512 of the statutes of 1894, that statute being the exemption of 1000 personally from taxation.

Myran—Providing that the books and papers of the probate judge shall be kept in the county clerk's office and the following bill given their final passage:

Knutson—Providing to fix pay of county commissioners at $4 per diem.

McCall—Providing for a 24-hour day for laborers on public works and providing for the enforcement of such laws.

Snyder—To amend laws relating to persons changing residence shortly prior to an election.

Senator Collier—Declaring standard central time to be legal time for public and private use.

In committee of the whole only one bill, that of Representative Morris, to amend the law relating to the sale of land, was taken up. The bill to amend the law relating to auctioneers, and Sweet's probate court commission amendments were indefinitely postponed.

Dorsey's bill for a history of Minnesota's Spanish war and that of Roberts for the preservation of original records of the civil war were recommitted.

SEEKING GERMAN SUPPORT

United States Wants Joint Action on the Part of the Powers on United Interests in China.

Berlin, Feb. 20.—The correspondent here of the Associated Press, under the subject of the object of the recent conference which United States Ambassador White had with the secretary for foreign affairs, Baron Von Richoff, was the prevention of petty seizures of territories and the obtaining of special privileges in China by separate powers. The United States is seeking Germany's support for joint action upon the part of the powers in order to obtain what is needed for the proper security of their diplomatic and commercial interests in China. It is believed the United States and Germany are in full accord on this subject.

The German foreign office says Field Marshal Count Von Waldersee's expedition is to be confined to the province of Pichili-Li unless the urgency of the Chinese government makes an extension necessary. The expedition is intended to bring pressure to bear on the Chinese court in order to bring about the full acceptance of the demands made through the ministers of the powers at Peking. The Chinese peace commissioners immediately telegraphed news of the projected military movement to Sian Fu and the latest reports indicate that the step taken is having the desired effect. It is supposed at the foreign office that the expedition is a German movement, but is in the common interests of the powers and is unanimously sanctioned by the foreign ministers, including Mr. Conger.

The Frankfurter Zeitung says an expedition into the interior would be a venture and calculated to open the eyes of the most credulous concerning the dangers Germany runs in availing itself of the murder of Baron von Ketteler. The paper expresses distrust of Germany's calm treatment of the matter since the government which used the opportunity of the murder of Ketteler for the seizure of territory of a friendly power in time of peace will not find an occasion for the seizure of a minister for further seizures.

The Lokal Anzeiger, commenting on the report that the United States objects to the expedition, says: "The United States is merely pursuing purposeless and timed intrigues which make a specially unpleasant impression in view of the dilatory force of the United States in China."

NEW OFFICES.

Plans For Improvements In Auditor's Department In Philippines.

Manilla, Feb. 20.—At a conference between the United States Philippine commission and W. L. Lavette, the new auditor for the Philippine islands, it was decided to establish an office and perfect plans for increased efficiency in the auditor's department. Brig. Gen. W. D. Doyle will shortly take up the duties of provost marshal of Manilla, succeeding Brig. Gen.

NOT THIS SESSION

No Action on Babcock's Bill to Reduce Duties on Steel.

SAY IT IS TOO LATE

Conferees on Revenue Reduction Bill Not Yet Ready to Report.

Washington, Feb. 20.—The ways and means committee of the house held a lengthy session today but did not have occasion to take up the revenue reduction bill, as the conferees were not ready to make any statement on its prospects. The tariff reduction bill of Mr. Babcock of Wisconsin taking off the duties on most of the articles in the iron and steel schedule of the Dingley act, was referred to the sub-committee on customs. It is hardly expected that anything can be done on this far-reaching character at this late day of the session.

The proposition to have one appraiser instead of two at Boston and Philadelphia and to increase the salary of the official retained was lost on a tie vote, and similar action resulted on a proposition to consolidate the Chicago appraiser's office.

The bill allowing government money to be kept in government depositories in Italy was defeated by a vote of 150 to 140. Mr. Sulzer's resolution calling for information of the Russian government on Russian sugar was not taken up.

WAS A SPY.

A More Serious Charge Will Be Brought Against Rusan.

Manilla, Feb. 20.—It has been learned that Rusan, who was arrested, furnished the insurgents with supplies and information concerning the American troops and their movements, as well as the names of the officers. Rusan, the rebel general, Calles, who has been operating continually in the district of Manila, Mr. Nobb, the bookkeeper of the Philippine Trading company, has made a partial confession to the effect that he furnished supplies and information to the insurgents. Rusan was implicated in the plot of Jan. 17, 1901, and was one of the men who were taken to the American troops stationed in the town of Bay.

Another force of insurgents will soon be deported to the island of Guam. Many of the discouraged insurgents in the effect that the Philippines are individually and surrendering their guns.

THE ARMY BILL.

Senate Committee on Military Affairs Completes Its Consideration.

Washington, Feb. 20.—The senate committee on military affairs today completed its consideration of the army appropriation bill. The committee endorsed the action of its sub-committee in adding the Spooner Philippine amendment to the bill. There was no discussion of the amendment in committee, but a vote was taken upon it. The vote resulted 5 to 4, the division being on party lines.

The committee also inserted an amendment providing that appointments under the army reorganization law to fill original vacancies in the grade of captain in the quartermaster's department and pay department may be made from the officers of volunteers commissioned since April 21, 1898, and now in the service.

Another amendment strikes out the appropriation of $2,000,000 to pay soldiers' deposits, made by the bill as it passed the house, and appropriates $50,000 to pay interest on the deposits.

DROPPED A HINT.

London, Feb. 20.—Presiding at a meeting of a railway company today the duke of Devonshire, president of the council, perhaps dropped a hint as to the possibility of a railway company being a shareholder in a coal mine. There was a doubt the chancellor of the exchequer would find a sympathetic ear to arguments in favor of an export duty on coal.

HAMILTON COLLECTED

Jury Brings In a Verdict of Manslaughter and Urges Mercy.

Penalty Is From Five to Twenty Years in State Prison.

Minneapolis, Feb. 20.—The jury in the case of Minnesota against Frank H. Hamilton, charged with murdering Leonard R. Day, after forty hours' deliberation, furnished a genuine surprise by coming into court a few minutes before 10 o'clock this morning and reporting that it had agreed on a verdict of manslaughter. In the first degree, with a recommendation to the mercy of the court. The jury had been out so long that hope of agreement had about been given up. The jury informed the court at 9:15 that it had agreed, but it took half an hour to arrange the preliminaries. Hamilton was brought down first. He had enjoyed a good night's sleep and was in excellent spirits.

He seemed dazed when the verdict was announced and made no other sign than to shake his head in mute protest.

He was at once remanded to jail to await sentence, and absolutely refused to see anyone except his devoted friend, Miss Johnson, of Colorado Springs.

His attorneys at once moved for a new trial, but no date was set for hearing the arguments.

When the prisoner reached the jail he said to Jailer Alexander, with a despairing gesture: "They've found me guilty, captain, but I don't deserve it."

The penalty for the crime of which he is convicted is imprisonment from 5 to 20 years.

The homicide for which Hamilton has been convicted occurred in the West hotel billiard hall, shortly after 2 o'clock, Sunday morning, Nov. 25, and it is a peculiar circumstance that the two men then met for the first time. That there was a woman in the case and that the grand jury returned an indictment against him Dec. 11, Hamilton was brought into court the next day and a trial of proceedings was granted. Dec. 20, when a plea of not guilty was entered and the case finally set for the trial, which has now been postponed with a verdict of guilty. The testimony of Officer Rooney, who asserted that Hamilton confessed to him that he killed Day and related the cause of their differences, was probably what brought about his conviction.

EXTRAORDINARY DEMENTA

Russia Is Prepared to Cut Off Her Nose to Spite Her Face In the Sugar Tariff Controversy.

New York, Feb. 20.—W. T. Stead in a special dispatch to the Journal and Advertiser says: Russia does not mean to quarrel with the United States, not even to the extent of a tariff war. The sudden and startling application of the maximum tariff to imports from America, valued at $100,000,000 a year is a method of indicating dissatisfaction with Gage's method of levying duty on a commodity of which America imports only $200,000 annually. It can hardly be regarded as serious policy.

"Being a convicted free trader believing Russia's material development has been and is still being horribly retarded by the heavy protective duties which she imposes on imports, I regard the increase of Russian duties on American iron and steel goods with profound regret. It does not matter much to the American manufacturers if he is temporarily shut out of the Russian market; it matters everything to the Russian consumer that the price of his machinery should not be increased.

The Russian peasant needs cheap agricultural machinery. An American professor pointed out not long ago, high duties on iron and steel hurt the agriculturist more than they help the manufacturer. It is a view, with Count Von Waldersee's menace to a glove with Great Britain if it is not heard of fairly for the great powers which are in a dispute which might render their cooperation in China less easy and natural than it is today.

"Cassino has now assumed Gage that Russia is prepared to cut off her nose to spite her face. Such is the extraordinary dementia that sugar seems to have produced upon the minds of the financiers. There is little doubt that Russia will carry out her threat. Could not Gage, under these circumstances discover the inexhaustible resources of the art of interpretation some means of saving Russia from inflicting an injury upon herself out of all proportion to the grievance which she seeks to remedy.

MRS. NATION IS OBSCURE

She Insists That She Will Remain in Jail Rather Than Give Bonds to Keep the Peace.

Topeka, Kans., Feb. 20.—Mrs. Carrie Nation and her two companions, Mrs. Crist and Miss Madeline Southard, are still confined in the county jail. Mrs. Nation stoutly persists that she will not give a $2000 bond to keep the peace and that she will remain in jail. The other two women were undecided, but it is thought they will appear in a day or two. They occupy the hospital ward at the jail, a large bare room 25 by 40 feet. The furniture consists of a cot, a table and a chair. There are also two tables, except that comfortable beds have been provided. There are also two tables for writing and Mrs. Nation has improvised a cupboard.

There has been a constant stream of visitors. Mrs. Nation has received a large number of letters and telegrams and spends the greater part of her time in writing.

Cases against the crusaders for "malicious destruction of property" at Murray's place on Sunday morning were on the calendar in the district court today. Being a criminal charge a jury trial was necessary. The defendants are Mrs. Nation, Mrs. Crist, Miss Southard, C. H. McDowell and Dr. Eva Harding.

Mrs. Nation decided to act as her own attorney. The other defendants secured counsel. The cases were to have come up during the morning, but attorneys for the defense asked for a continuance until 1:30 p. m. in order that an application for change of venue might be prepared.

FROZEN STIFF.

Boy's Body Found in a Barrel
Where He Sought Shelter.

Watertown, Mass., Feb. 20.—The body of a boy, James Monahan, 7-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Monahan, of Vineyard street, Cambridge, who mysteriously disappeared from his home, on Friday, Feb. 8, was found in an empty ash barrel in the rear of the Watertown starch factory, on Pleasant street, this city. How the unfortunate lad met his death is a mystery, but it is believed that he lost his way in the storm and sought the barrel for shelter. There he froze to death. The spot where the body was discovered is fully four miles from the boy's home, and nearly that distance from where he was last seen alive. The discovery was made by Thomas Wade, Wade's attention was attracted to a hen crackling near a barrel against the building, and looking into it, he was horrified to see the body of a small boy. A hasty examination showed that life was extinct. Medical Examiner Mead called to find any traces of violence and was unable to tell how long the boy had been dead. The body was frozen stiff. Monahan left his home shortly before noon on Friday, Feb. 8, to take his father's dinner to the Watertown arsenal, where the latter is employed. The day was cold and windy, and after leaving his father he started to return home. At nightfall he had not returned, and the police were notified. An active search was made, but no trace of him could be found.

TRIES TO KILL PINKERTON.

Steve L'Hommiedieu Threatens Head of Detective Agency.
New Orleans, Feb. 20.—Steve L'Hommiedieu, the well-known racehorse man and plunger, attempted to shoot Robert Pinkerton, the detective, in Lamoth's restaurant Monday morning, but was disarmed and ejected from the place. Robert Pinkerton was eating breakfast in company with his brother, William, who is head of the Pinkerton agency in Chicago, when L'Hommiedieu entered the restaurant, and after greetings had been exchanged he sat down at the table with them. He accused Robert Pinkerton of "having it in for him," and blamed him for his disappearance from the Eastern tracks two years ago, and said that William Pinkerton was responsible for his disappearance from the Washington Park track last summer. The Pinkertons said they had done no more than their duty, and the head of the Eastern branch of the detective agency told L'Hommiedieu he had caught him "with the goods on," and treated him as he would treat any one else who attempted to bribe jockeys and horse-owners. L'Hommiedieu attempted to draw a revolver, but the trigger caught in the pocket of his coat, and Lamoth grabbed the weapon before any harm was done. L'Hommiedieu was in the race track during the afternoon, and made threats of killing the Pinkertons to whoever would listen to him. William Pinkerton said he would not prosecute the plunger. The chief of police, however, has issued orders for L'Hommiedieu's arrest, and he probably will have to answer to a charge of making threats and attempting to shoot. L'Hommiedieu has imbibed too much of the carnival spirit since his return from the Texas oil fields, where he tied up a good part of his money in oil lands, and his betting operations here since his return have been disastrous.

Four Beautiful Cars.

New and completely equipped for all sorts of people, will constitute the "Lake Superior Limited" trains of the Northern Pacific's "Duluth Short Line" from Monday, Feb. 25, next.

KILLED SHIP'S MASCOT.

And Cat Is Made to Walk the Plank.
San Francisco, Feb. 20.—After sixteen years service on the fish commission steamer Albatross, "Jerry," the fighting black cat of the ship, with a championship record, was buried Monday with full naval honors by the crew. The cat, which was getting old, was badly injured in a recent fight with another ship's cat called "The Black Cat." The crew doctor "Jerry" and he was on the road to recovery, when his enemy once more attacked and killed him. The crew held a court-martial on "Jerry" and decided he was guilty of manslaughter. They sentenced him to walk the plank, and having loaded him with scrap iron, literally carried out the sentence.

The crew took "Jerry" wrapped in the American flag, in a launch to Fort Baker, where he was buried with honors. The chief mourner was Rear Admiral Jome, a big gent from the Marquesas Islands, who had been many years on the ship.

LEAVES WORK TO ENTERTAIN.

James Henry Smith, the "Silent Broker," Will Quit Business.
New York, Feb. 20.—James Henry Smith, the richest bachelor in America, possessor of $50,000,000, and known as "the silent broker," will quit business for a time at least. So great a success was his St. Valentine's dinner dance on Thursday last that he has accepted the advice of his friends and will go into entertaining on a large scale the world over. He has planned to spend $100,000 before next winter rolls around, chiefly on the new acquaintances he has formed in society. Mr. Smith will sail for Europe shortly, taking passage in the handsomest suite on one of the Atlantic greyhounds. After a few days in London, Paris and Vienna, he will go to the Riviera, where he has taken a villa. There all New Yorkers of social prominence whom Mr. Smith knows, will be invited for a series of house parties. The winter season over, he goes to London to occupy the house he has rented there. He will entertain Americans during the festivities attending King Edward's coronation. The coronation over, Mr. Smith will return to the United States in a yacht which he has chartered for the summer at a cost of $5,000.

INDIAN'S INCREASING. Chicago Inter-Ocean: According to late authorities it is a mistake to suppose that the Indian population of the United States is decreasing. It is declared to be slowly growing now. Their wars are at an end and the red man has learned not to get into trouble with the whites. He is becoming a self-supporting agriculturist.

TROUBLE IN SIGHT

Considerable Uneasiness Felt
In Pekin Over Differences Between the Powers.

INDEMNITY CLAIMS

Ministers Resent the Attitude of Germany Asking Cash
In Advance.

Pekin, Feb. 20.—The foreign envoys this morning received an unofficial communication from the Chinese plenipotentiaries offering to agree to all the terms of the powers. The Chinese desired, however, to save the lives of Chau-Su, Chia, and Yink Nien, but they were informed that the ministers insisted upon the former demands. A complete surrender is expected tomorrow.

Meanwhile extensive preparations are being made for the evacuation planned by Count Von Waldersee. The Germans have purchased 380 camels for transport purposes. A representative of the Associated Press was informed by the foreign ministers today that they think the gravity of the situation over, but it is expected that difficulties will now arise among themselves, whereas of the government and their indemnity claims, especially is there unanimity that her claims must be paid in cash before the evacuation takes place. The other ministers resent this, saying it will be impossible for China to pay as China has not a large reserve, and the customs receipts go to pay dividends upon foreign loans; and it is improbable that she could borrow a sum of any magnitude. United States Minister Conger estimates the total demands upon China at $200,000,000.

THE D. A. R.

Proceedings of the National Congress in Session at Washington.

Washington, Feb. 20.—The National Society of Daughters of the American Revolution today convened with the intention of completing the reading of all reports to clear the way for the event of the congress, the election of officers tomorrow. After the preliminary opening exercises a stir was created when Mrs. Nesbitt, of Massachusetts, presented a resolution to the effect that the statements circulated, attacking the board of officers of the D. A. R., being untrue, libelous and reflecting upon the honor of the organization, they should receive the disapproval of the society. A member requested that the press be restrained in mentioning the resolution in the proceedings of the congress, but this amendment was not put before the house. The resolution was laid upon the table.

Mrs. Daniel Manning presented her report as chairman of the committee on the continental hall. The report showed that from Feb. 10, 1900, to Feb. 10, 1901, there had been received towards the fund $10,780. The fund now amounts to $2,828. Continuing the report says: Again, and for the last time, I urge you to do your part toward this memorial of the men who counted on sacrifice too great for accomplishing our independence. Let us put up a building to which all people can point with pride. It should be one of the finest halls in the country, for it will represent 35,000 of the best women in America. Mrs. Manning appealed to the members of congress to contribute $2 each. If this is done, she said, $70,000 will be raised.

FOR ATTORNEY GENERAL.

Knox, Who May Succed Griggs, Is Summioned.
Washington, Feb. 20.—Philip C. Knox, of Pittsburgh, the president's personal choice for the position of attorney general, has been summoned to Washington from California and is expected here soon. It is said the president has not wholly abandoned the idea of inducing Ambassador Choate to return to the United States and go into the cabinet, but it is believed Mr. Choate will decline, as he has done hitherto.

There may be some question as to whether Mr. Knox can readily take the place. As chief counsel for the Carnegie interests he would have to make a sacrifice of income to a great extent, but as he is reputed to be several times a millionaire, it is believed the money question will not be allowed to stand in the way.

It has been feared that as Mr. Knox is the Carnegie attorney, and his partner is president of Carnegie's Bessemer railroad, the law firm might be so involved in the recent big transaction that it would be impossible to consider the cabinet offer. However, Attorney General Griggs has offered to remain in the cabinet for a little while after March 4, and possibly until the Porto Rican cases are decided. That will enable Mr. Knox to take time to dispose of his complicated legal interests in the Carnegie works.

KING EDWARD'S VISIT.

Will Be a Strictly Private One to Empress Dowager.
London, Feb. 20.—The announcement of the date (Saturday) of King Edward's departure for Friedrichsruhe, near Cronberg, has revived the stories that his trip will be extended to Berlin, to repay Emperor William's visit to England at the time of Queen Victoria's death, and that he will go to Denmark. At present, however, his majesty has no intention of so doing. He will merely pay a strictly private visit of a few days to the Dayager Empress Frederick. He will not be accompanied by the queen. It is probable that at the end of March King Edward will visit Prince Henry of Prussia at Kiel.

The New "Lake Superior" Limited is really a second "North Coast Limited" on a slightly reduced scale as regards size of train. The "Duluth Short Line" of the Northern Pacific, on and after Monday, Feb. 25, will have on its "Lake Superior Limited" run the prettiest thing in the Korymbus train line. Leaves Duluth 1:55 West Superior, 2:10 p. m., daily on and after Monday next.

FEARS OF THE BRITISH

Grave Anxiety Felt For Smith-
Dorrien's Column of 2,500 Men.

New York, Feb. 20.—A dispatch to the Journal and Advertiser from London says: Grave anxiety is felt for the fate of the Smith-Dorrien column, which has not been heard of since Feb. 6, when it lost twenty-four killed and forty-six wounded in a heavy engagement with Commandant Botha at Bushwell. The officer in command at Wardenburg, the nearest post on the railway to the scene of the engagement, reports that he has no news of Smith-Dorrien, who has about 2,500 men under him.

Lord Kitchener has returned to Pretoria, having the chase after De Wet in the hands of Knox. De Wet has completely fooled Kitchener. He thought he had the Boer general surrounded near DeAar, Cape Colony, but found out he was mistaken and is wondering now where De Wet will be located next. A raid upon Cape Town, while appearing impossible at this distance, is said to be actually feared. Kitchener wired yesterday that De Wet is moving north and is now west of Hope Town, but will probably double back to the southwest, where troops are awaiting to catch him.

THE FILIPINO APPEAL. Kansas City Star: The petition for clemency in which 200 Filipinos have petitioned their request for self-government is a unique document. It is in the shape of a leather bound book, which contains a typewritten translation in English, then the appeal itself printed in Spanish, with the signatures following. Each signature occupies two or more lines on the ruled paper, and is embellished with intricate flourishes, without which, apparently a Spanish signature is not valid.

HOUSE RESTAURANT. The restaurant in the house at Washington is in the basement, and compares in its service and appointments with some of the best cafes of the big cities of the country, says a Washington letter. The place is a most comfortable one, and class comparison. It is the best place in the capital to get a talk with a member. He don't come to the restaurant, but he has learned something about how matters are going on in the floor of the house, and he usually is in a good humor while he sits.

PAYING THE FIDDLER. Indianapolis News: George Seymour, of Tippecanoe, Wis., has a curious idea of a joke. He put a buggy on the Northwestern railroad track—"just for fun." A freight train made toothicks out of it and George is now doing sixty days in the workhouse.

ARE NOT NERVOUS

Ice Men Not Disturbed Over Prospect For the Crop of Ice.

OF GOOD THICKNESS

Lake Ice of Good Depth—Supply Usually Cut In February and March.

The ice men are no longer nervous. The lake is already in condition to cut ice near shore, and in a couple of days more will be in such condition that it can be cut for a good distance out. This year has been very much like most every other year so far as the cutting of the ice crop is concerned. As the month of February comes and the lake is still open, many people begin to get nervous over where the ice is to come from, and have visions of high prices in the summer and scant supply. The ice men and the old residents of Duluth never get nervous so early as that. If March were to come without any ice held out in the lake, they might begin to fear for the summer supply, but until then they do not worry much. As a matter of fact, most of the ice crop from the lake is always cut late in February and in March.

At the present time the ice in the lake is about eight inches thick. With weather such as prevails now, ice is forming rapidly, and it will be only a day or two more before there is twelve inches and possibly fifteen. Fifteen inches is considered a very nice thickness by the ice men, and they are even well satisfied with twelve.

The work of cutting the supply is not a very long one. The companies figure on getting in most of the crop in three weeks' time. This means the crop of domestic ice. For storage purposes the hay ice can be used, and that can be had at any time of the year. It can be taken out of the slips.

The process employed in cutting ice is rather interesting. Instead of using teams to haul it into the houses from the point where it is cut, channels are cut in the ice and are kept open, and through these the ice is towed to the point where it is to be hoisted into the house. Favorable weather is what the ice men pray for after he begins his cutting. He wants still weather so that his channel will not be blocked up and can be kept open. So important is it to keep this open that men are sometimes employed all night in keeping the ice from forming in the channel. Sometimes this channel will be a half mile and sometimes a mile long.

The Duluth Ice company cuts its crop of domestic ice from the reservoir. Three crops have already been taken off and a fourth one is to be cut. This means about 4000 tons of ice. Last year this company cut three crops off the reservoir, a little more than 3000 tons, and exhausted it all. Last summer was very warm and the demand on the ice supply was much heavier than usual. The 2000 tons was insufficient and the company had to buy 1000 tons outside of this.

HE WILL STICK.

Congressman Morris Endorses L. M. Willcuts and Senator Nelson Joins In.

Tacked away in an obscure corner of the Minneapolis "Herald" yesterday was this important item:

"Representative Morris has endorsed L. M. Willcuts for reappointment as collector of customs at Duluth. Senator Nelson joined with him."

Duluth people will doubtless be greatly surprised at learning that the present "Congressman" large of the Sixth district has been endorsed by the congressmen for reappointment. There has been such a awful doubt in the mind of the people as to whether he would do it. The publication of the fact will give some of the men who have been presuming enough to apply to the fact how they had enough and that he was a defeated ruler, the head of a defeated machine. There were some politicians here who really thought that Mr. Willcuts was disturbed and they counted on the senators to do it. Mr. Nelson having given his endorsement also they will find all their hopes blasted. It is hardly to be thought that Senator Clapp would enter a protest even were he so inclined for, with the congressmen from the district and the senator for him, he has pretty nearly a clear field. Scarcely been in office long enough anyway to begin to work out political grudges if he has any. The weight lifted from the mind of Mr. Willcuts by this announcement is probably not of very great proportions. There could not have been even a lingering doubt with him as to the action of Congressman Morris. There is one other individual holding a federal office who would fairly hit the ceiling in his heart of joy when this announcement is made that he had been endorsed for reappointment. That man is Jay M. Smith, receiver of the United States land office. His term does not expire for some time, however, and it will be a year from now before any item with relation to him is to appear. In the meantime his load of anxiety will increase.

To Address Saturday Club.
Frederick Ward, the eminent actor, will address the Saturday club next Saturday at 2:30 o'clock. He is a fine speaker and his lectures in different places where he has appeared have always been great features.

La Grippe Quickly Cured.

"In the winter of 1898 and 1899 I was taken down with a severe attack of what is called la grippe," says F. L. Hewitt, a prominent druggist of Winfield, Ill. "The only medicine I used was two bottles of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It broke up the cold and stopped the coughing like magic, and I have never since been troubled with grippe. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy can always be depended upon to break up a severe cold and ward off any threatened attack of pneumonia. It is pleasant to take, too, which makes it the most desirable and one of the most popular preparations in use for these ailments. For sale at Boyce's Drug store."

The change from the rule of George III to the administration of

GEORGE WASHINGTON

MEANT much to the colonies in '76. It changed the history of America and the map of the world. From Bunker Hill to Valley Forge and Yorktown is a long story of bloodshed, carnage, suffering, fidelity, and patriotism. Through successive steps this country threw off the yoke of England, and the red coat was changed for one of blue and buff. In this great struggle George Washington stands out clearly and distinctly as the great hero and "Father of his Country." We join with all America in honoring the natal day of the first president of the United States. We are also daily celebrating the birth of new spring styles, new goods, new ideas, and new prices in the realm of dry goods. Our buyers are now East sending to us daily the Nineteenth Century's contributions to the Twentieth. We are emulating Washington in veracity by accurately advertising our merchandise. In addition to the new wares, many Special Sales are inaugurated for the balance of the week that will greatly interest vigilant shoppers.

Defending a Suit.
A dispatch from Grand Forks, N. D., says: "A heavy damask suit is being argued before Judge Fisk in chambers today. The suit was brought by William H. Ulmer, of St. Paul against P. McDonald, of Duluth, and the amount claimed is about $15,000. McDonald is the contractor who did all the cedar break paving in this city. Ulmer claims that in 1888 a contract was made whereby he was to furnish McDonald 42,000 feet of Dunville stone to be used in this city as curbing; 20,000 feet of this was furnished and used. It is claimed by the plaintiff he was paid $400 and that at the contract price there is still due about $300. In addition, he claims a profit of 25 cents per foot on the 15,000 feet not accepted by McDonald, and alleges other damages."

FRANK BURROWS REMEMBERED.

Employees of Great Eastern Present Him With Easy Chair.

Last evening the employees of the Great Eastern Clothing house called upon Frank Burrows at his home on Twelfth avenue east and presented him with a fine easy chair. Mr. Burrows has just left the Great Eastern, and the men with whom he has been associated arranged the affair to show their esteem and friendship. When he arrived home last evening he found the entire company, numbering about thirty, there, and preparations made for a general good time. Mrs. Burrows, of course, knew of their coming, but Mr. Burrows was taken unawares. The easy chair, a very handsome one, was presented by Alderman Victor Johnson in a few well-chosen words. Mr. Burrows, though very much surprised, responded gracefully. Supper was then served and the evening was very pleasantly passed.

CULPRIT DISMISSED

Princeton Orator Admits That He Is Guilty of Gross Plagiarism.

GIVEN FIRST PRIZE

In the Junior Contest During the Regular Commencement Exercises.

Princeton, N. J., Feb. 20.—George Washington Kehr, of Harrisburg, Pa., has been dismissed from the university for gross plagiarism in a speech with which he won the first prize in the Junior oratorical contest last June. The offense has just come to light in a peculiar manner, and because of the rarity of such scandals at Princeton has caused a stir among the students.

Kehr was one of the eight contestants, and on the decision of the judges was presented with the $100 prize during the regular commencement exercises. The Princeton Literary Magazine, in its next publication, which was in October, 1900, printed his oration.

The Lafayette Touchstone, the literary magazine of Lafayette college, received a copy of the paper among its exchanges, and the editor recognized the oration as one that previously came out in the Gettysburg Mercury, the publication of Pennsylvania college. Explanations were demanded of the Princeton "Lit," the affair was put into the hands of the faculty, and on being confronted with the evidence Kehr confessed.

In order to absolve itself from all blame in the plagiarism, the "Lit" publishes the following letter from Kehr:

"Managing Editor of Nassau Lit: My Dear Sir—A great injustice has been done by me to Mr. Hellman, of Gettysburg, to the university, my class and especially to those who took part in the oratorical contest last June, and all who are proud of belonging to an institution where the principles of true Christian manhood are taught. I want to frankly confess the gross plagiarism of which I am guilty, and remove any cause that might be brought upon your magazine for upon me alone devolves the crime."

Kehr was in the class of 1901, and would have graduated next June. It was at the time a matter of surprise that he won the prize, as he was pitted against men who had always been the best in their class. Kehr could hardly be so considered.

Finally he got so confused that he was unable to answer any more questions. He started to get angry. Then the sheriff's anger burst loose and he rose up and said, "You damn son of a bitch, you victims thought they had a good shot of me."

"Well, well," said Slick, when he recovered from the occurrence had thrown up. "We've got the rid of the sheriff and then we can get on with our business."

"The sheriff didn't come around if he wanted to," said Slick, "but he was sent to the county jail."

"The sheriff seemed as if his pride was broken," said Slick.

"You ev'n' n' Mac," he said, "get two bits worth of catin', will ya?"

"No," said Slick, "I don't want no catin' on a turn and stood with his elbow on the table and his hand on his forehead. The sheriff pulled his big ulster to cover his face.

Then he pulled an armchair up in front of the door, while the crowd waited expectantly. When he got himself settled the sheriff began: "As I was a sartin' that Saturday night, this yer old Deemer was the ornervest old cuss bears that ever you seed."

The visitors knew they were in for it. The sheriff sat there and told them the old moss-covered, four-mile long lie.

"Well, I guess we are about even now. We kin start square next Saturday mornin' when I want to tell you a story about a friend of mine down in Texas named Robbins."

But his visitors never heard his words; they just wandered away, meek-looking, and they could without meaning to.

Elevated Railway Car Burned to the Trucks at Chicago.

Chicago, Feb. 21.—Passengers and crew of an early morning Metropolitan elevated railway train had an exciting experience with fire today. When within three blocks of its terminus defective wires started a blaze in the motor car. Attempts to quench it with chemicals failed and the car soon filled with smoke. The flames spread rapidly and the five passengers were compelled to retreat to the rear platform. The motor car stuck to his post and was severely burned about the hands and arms, and his leg was crushed in uncoupling the rear cars. He had, however, succeeded in bringing his train to the terminal station, where the passengers made haste in escaping. The car was burned to the trucks and the station platform damaged. The loss was put at $5000.

CHINA'S LOAN.*It Must Be Had Soon But Negotiations Not Yet Commenced.

New York, Feb. 21.—A report in Berlin yesterday that China is negotiating a loan of 300,000 marks in New York seems to be based purely on conjecture, so far as can be learned from New York bankers. It is a matter that of course China will have to borrow to meet the demands upon her for indemnities for the powers. It is expected that the cheapest money market will be appealed to for resources for such a loan. New York in the circumstances will be called on for at least a portion of such a loan, but of any actual negotiation no trace can be found. It is not considered probable that any plan has yet been formed for such a financial operation, as the amount of China's requirements is yet wholly conjectural.

BISHOP W. M. BARKER DEAD
Stricken Down By Heart Disease at His Residence in Tacoma—Formerly Rector of St. Paul's in Duluth.One of the Most Popular Clergymen Ever in Duluth—Brilliant Man, Full of Original Plans.

Tacoma, Wash., Feb. 21.—(Special to The Herald.)—Bishop Barker died at his home here at 6:30 o'clock this morning. The cause of his death was heart disease.

The above announcement of the death of Bishop Barker will be received with deep sorrow by many friends in Duluth, having been for years the rector of St. Paul's Episcopal church here, and gaining a large circle of friends and admirers both outside and inside the church with which he was connected. Duluth has had few clergymen who were as generally popular as was Mr. Barker, and it was with regret that the news of his elevation to the episcopate was received, because it necessitated his removal from this city.

Rev. William Morris Barker was born May 12, 1854, at Towanda, Pa., and was educated at his father's classical school in Germantown, graduating from the University of Pennsylvania in 1873. His theological education was pursued at the Berkeley Divinity school. He was ordained deacon by Bishop Williams in 1879, and priest by Bishop Doane in 1880, or fifteen months previous to his ordination to the priesthood. Mr. Barker served at St. John's church, Troy, N. Y., as assistant rector, after that period he was the assistant at St. John's, Washington, D. C., for three months, when he was elected rector of St. Paul's, in the same city. Here he labored for six years, resigning to take charge of the extensive parish of St. Luke's, Baltimore. This was his home until March, 1888, when he was summoned to the rectorship of St. Paul's, Duluth, from whence he was elected to the bishopric of the newly formed missionary jurisdiction in the state of Colorado. He was highly successful in the large and responsible work that he was called upon to perform as a missionary bishop, and a few years later was elected bishop of the diocese of Olympia, making his residence at Tacoma. There he has labored with much success, and the people of the diocese will be plunged into mourning by his sudden demise. Bishop Barker was married a few years ago, since becoming bishop of Olympia. Shortly after his election to the missionary bishopric in Colorado, Seabury divinity school, in this state, conferred upon him the degree of doctor of divinity.

Dr. A. W. Ryan, who was Bishop Barker's successor as rector of the St. Paul's parish in this city, could scarcely believe the news when he heard it at noon today. In speaking of Bishop Barker he said:

"He has been threatened with heart trouble for some time past and was transferred from Western Colorado to the district of Olympia on account of the high altitude of Colorado affecting his health. He did a grand work for Duluth during the four years he was rector of this parish. It was through his efforts that our church was enlarged, and the city generally was much benefited by his large public meetings for non-churchgoers. He was a brilliant man, and full of original plans for church work, which he could always put into execution successfully and expeditiously."

A SENSATIONAL SCANDAL*Duke of Westminster Who Married Miss West the Other Day, is Co-respondent in London Divorce Suit.*Plaintiff is Major Atherton of Twelfth Lancers Who Has Been Offered £40,000 to Settle the Matter.

London, Feb. 21.—Maj. T. J. Atherton, second in command of the Twelfth (Prince of Wales) royal lancers, now in South Africa, has filed a suit for divorce against his wife, Mabel Louisa Atherton, naming the duke of Westminster as co-respondent. With the announcement of the filing of the suit of Atherton vs. Atherton and Westminster, the long-anticipated divorce proceedings of Maj. Atherton against his wife, with the duke of Westminster figuring in the role of co-respondent, have at length materialized. Within the past thirty-six hours, the lawyer, who is looked upon as the leader of the divorce court bar, has been retained in behalf of the plaintiff. The case cannot be aired in court at any rate for some months, and possibly not before the autumn, and the friends of the just-married duke may succeed in compromising the matter and preventing a trial. But as Maj. Atherton is reported to have already received a check for £40,000, as compensation for the injury he is said to have sustained, the task ahead of those who are trying to arrange a settlement, among whom is said to be King Edward himself, would seem to be insuperable. The petitioner, however, is persistent. Mabel Louisa Atherton, one of the crack regiments in the British army, the Twelfth (Prince of Wales) lancers, Maj. Atherton ought to have succeeded to the command of the regiment when its late colonel, the earl of Airedale, was killed in South Africa in June last, but he was passed over in favor of Col. R. T. Mansfield, who had overruled the British forces which relieved Mafeking. The respondent, Mabel Louisa Atherton, is a sister of Sir Aubrey Paul, Bart. She married Maj. Atherton in 1892. They have one son, born in 1895. Mrs. Atherton is a good looking, stylish woman, about 35 years of age. She belongs to London's smart set. When Mrs. Atherton went to South Africa her husband's regiment was the Duke of Westminster's. She proceeded there, Mrs. Atherton was at the Modder river camp, and she proceeded to the front in South Africa. The duke of Westminster, then Lord Belgrave, and the brother of a well-known South African millionaire, whose name has also been mentioned with that of Mrs. Atherton, were at the same camp. For a long time Maj. Atherton remained in ignorance of the camp gossip, but finally some of his brother officers notified him of the facts in the case. Mrs. Atherton returned to England in October, and stopped off at the Island of Madeira. There she took passage on a steamer which was taking the Duke of Westminster home. They arrived in London Nov. 3. Since the return of Mrs. Atherton, the Grosvenor family (the duke's name is Hugh Richard Arthur Grosvenor) has been engaged in an attempt to prevent the case getting into the courts. The countess of Grosvenor, however, has been invited by Mrs. Atherton to her house. This move silenced the gossip for some time. Then the countess of Grosvenor, who was formerly the duke of Westminster's day of his marriage, which was disproved by the fact that the suit was not then filed. The duke of Westminster was married at St. Paul's church, Knightsbridge, London, Feb. 16, Miss Sheldrake, West daughter of Col. William Cornwallis West.

York, Pa., Feb. 21.—Thirty flouring mills, located principally in Pennsylvania and Maryland and having a daily output of 10,000 barrels, have entered into a combination which will be known as the Eastern Milling and Export company. Newton Jackson, of Philadelphia, is at the head of the combination, which has headquarters in that city. Two mills in this country have gone into the combination, and the others are located in the millers in this and adjoining counties. The mills entering the combination will be given stock and bonds for their plants. The company's output will be used entirely to fill orders for export.

FRAUDS AT MILWAUKEE*Evidence That the City Has Been Defrauded For Several Years.*SYSTEM OF FORGERY*Bogus Certificates Amounting to From $20,000 to $100,000 Were Cashed.

Milwaukee, Feb. 21.—The Sentinel says: Evidence has been brought to light which shows the city of Milwaukee has been systematically defrauded for years.

How much the city treasury has suffered is not known exactly, but an investigation which has been conducted for the past two days by City Treasurer Bolow shows that the city has been defrauded out of a sum which is estimated anywhere from $20,000 to $100,000, and it may even be greater.

The investigation has not progressed far enough so that the names of any of the city treasurers who cashed the bogus certificates, or the names of the forgers, can be given. The operations by which this great amount of money was taken from the city treasury have extended over a period of several years, and according to the revelations made by the investigation, the forgers were in the name of living contractors, or sometimes in the name of men who have been dead for years. The names of the members of the board of public works and the city comptroller were forged to cash the certificates.

There is no means of telling at present what amount the city has lost, but it is known that the operations in these fraudulent certificates extended back to 1894, and it is estimated that they may extend still further back.

The forgery was made through an accident. A representative of one of the contractors who had been loaning money on city certificates came into the city treasurer's office. They fell into the hands of the forgers, and he immediately discovered they were not genuine.

NO CUTTING.*Railroads Want Full Price For Bringing Soldiers From Coast.

Chicago, Feb. 21.—The Tribune says: General passenger agents of the continental railroads in session in this city considered measures for the absolute maintenance of military rates. Many of the railroads in the Philippines are expected to return home in the near future and the roads are anxious to prevent a scramble for the business by the various lines and the cutting of rates below a paying basis. A pool is now being formed in connection with this business and it is to be divided equally among all competing roads. To carry out this arrangement it was decided that no bids shall be made by individual roads, but that hereafter, Chairman McClellan of the Western Passenger association, is to put in a bid for all roads whenever the government asks for bids.

THE STEEL TRADE AT SEA*Possible Effect of the Morgan Consolidation Is Being Discussed and Announcement of Details Is Awaited.*Leading Men Assert True Policy Must Be to Secure Economies and Share Them With the Consumers.

New York, Feb. 21.—Amid the steel situation, the iron Age today says: Pending the official announcement of the details of the Morgan consolidation, the trade is at sea as to its possible effect, which no one, whatever his connection with the industry, can escape. A large capitalization and the fact point in that direction, means very heavy fixed charges, which in turn would imply ability on the part of outsiders. Certainly no new enterprises would enter the lists without very substantial financial backing, and with ample provisions for raw material. All will depend upon the management, which must be broad and tactful. Crowding prices would be fatal in many ways. Leading men point out that the true policy must be to secure economies and share them with the consumers. In other words, the plan must be to persistently lower prices. With control of everything from the ground up, there will be little excuse for fluctuations, and a steadying of the markets must be a natural result. If it were not that the situation in steel billets is peculiar, one of the first steps should be a lowering in the price, which would do much to allay public apprehension.

The iron Age today says of conditions in the iron trade: The features of the week has been the heavy buying of pig iron, notably for steel purposes. Some large sales of Bessemer pig have been made in the valleys, and the market has risen squarely. A leading interest in the Pittsburgh district has purchased heavily of basic pig iron in nearly all the markets. Birmingham, Virginia, Eastern and Western Pennsylvania, and the market has been sold. The total quantity of basic pig involved probably being not far from $5000 to $6000. There have also been sales aggregating at least 20,000 tons of pig iron by furnaces in the Lebanon valley, and there have been transactions in Pittsburgh of round lots of mill iron. The suspicion that all these transactions have been carried through in order to give the iron market an appearance of buoyancy in view of the financial developments does not seem justified. In foundry from the iron pipe foundries have been buying some round lots of cast and west, and there is generally a somewhat better feeling. There is a growing scarcity of steel.

New York, Feb. 21.—A dispatch to the Tribune from London says: The depression in the British iron and steel trades formed the keynote of the duke of Devonshire's address to the shareholders of the Furness railway, over which he presides. It is a picture of the present condition of affairs to the keen American competition, and expressed the opinion, especially in regard to the fact that the competition would become even more acute and that further depression in the home industry was inevitable. Sir Christopher Furness, in proposing at Newcastle that the famous Stephenson works should have accommodation, mentioned as his reason the fact that the American locomotive trade has increased 450 per cent, while the British trade has decreased 25 per cent.

Berlin, Feb. 21.—The expeditionary plans of Field Marshal Count Von Waldersee continue in disfavor with the larger part of the German public. The Vorwarts today says that if the German government, in view of the latest satisfactory telegrams received from Salan Fu, should not declare its intention to abandon the proposed expedition, the representatives of the nation will force an opportunity in the Reichstag to energetically protest against such plans, which might lead to the gravest international complications. The Reichstag, says the Vorwarts, cannot be lured by the government now as it was in the summer of 1900.

The Cologne Volks Zeitung publishes today a special dispatch from New Chwang, which announces that Son, the military governor of Mukden, has gathered an army, and Feb. 19 and 21 attacked the railroad to Shan Hai Kuan and surrounded Russians in Tchin Cho.

Tu and Kabon Se. Gen. Fleischer sent forward two regiments of Russian troops to their relief. The Russian losses were large. The Russians are unable to master the Chinese forces there.

LOST AT SEA.*Schooner Isaac N. Kerlin Goes Down But Crew Was Saved.

New York, Feb. 21.—The North German Lloyd steamer Werma, which arrived this morning from Genoa, Naples and Gibraltar, reports that on Feb. 18, in latitude 35.25, longitude 56.05, she spoke the British steamer St. Quentin, from Savannah, for Liverpool, which signalled "Report American schooner Isaac N. Kerlin, all hands saved." It is presumed from that that the Isaac N. Kerlin has been lost at sea and that her crew were picked up by the St. Quentin. The schooner Isaac N. Kerlin, Capt. Steelman, left Jacksonville Jan. 29, for Baltimore, with a cargo of lumber. She was built at Leesburg, N. J., in 1885 and registered 348 tons.

A HOT TIME.
Elevated Railway Car Burned to the Trucks at Chicago.

Chicago, Feb. 21.—Passengers and crew of an early morning Metropolitan elevated railway train had an exciting experience with fire today. When within three blocks of its terminus defective wires started a blaze in the motor car. Attempts to quench it with chemicals failed and the car soon filled with smoke. The flames spread rapidly and the five passengers were compelled to retreat to the rear platform. The motor-man stuck to his post and was severely burned about the hands and arms, and his leg was crushed in uncoupling the rear cars. He had, however, succeeded in bringing his train to the terminal station, where the passengers made haste in escaping. The car was burned to the trucks and the station platform damaged. The loss was put at $5000.

CHINA'S LOAN.
It Must Be Had Soon But Negotiations Not Yet Commenced.

New York, Feb. 21.—A report in Berlin yesterday that China is negotiating a loan of 300,000,000 marks in New York seems to be based purely on conjecture, so far as can be learned from New York bankers. It is a matter that of course China will have to borrow to meet the demands upon her for indemnities for the powers. It is expected that the Chinese government will be approached for resources for such a loan. New York in the circumstances will be called on for at least a part of such a loan, but of any actual negotiation no trace can be found. It is not considered probable that any plan has yet been formed for such a financial operation, as the amount of China's requirement is yet wholly conjectural.

BISHOP W. M. BARKER DEAD

Stricken Down By Heart Disease at His Residence in Tacoma—Formerly Rector of St. Paul's in Duluth.

One of the Most Popular Clergymen Ever in Duluth—Brilliant Man, Full of Original Plans.

Tacoma, Wash., Feb. 21.—(Special to The Herald.)—Bishop Barker died at his home here at 6:30 o'clock this morning. The cause of his death was heart disease.

The above announcement of the death of Bishop Barker will be received with deep sorrow by many friends in Duluth, having been for years the rector of St. Paul's Episcopal church here, and gaining a large circle of friends and admirers both outside and inside the church with which he was connected. Duluth has had few clergymen who were as generally popular as was Mr. Barker, and it was with regret that the news of his elevation to the episcopate was received, because it necessitated his removal from this city.

Rev. William Morris Barker was born May 12, 1854, at Towanda, Pa., and was educated at his father's classical school in Germantown, graduating from the University of Pennsylvania in 1873. His theological education was pursued at the Berkeley Divinity school, where he was ordained deacon by Bishop Williams in 1879, and priest by Bishop Doane in 1880, or fifteen months previous to his ordination to the priesthood. Mr. Barker served at St. John's church, Troy, N. Y., as assistant rector. After that time he was the assistant at St. John's, Washington, D. C., for three months, when he was elected rector of St. Paul's, in the same city. Here he labored for six years, resigning to take charge of the extensive parish of St. Luke's, Baltimore. This was his last post until March, 1889, when he was summoned to the

A SENSATIONAL SCANDAL

Duke of Westminster Who Married Miss West the Other Day, is Co-respondent in London Divorce Suit.

Plaintiff is Major Atherton of Twelfth Lancers Who Has Been Offered £40,000 to Settle the Matter.

London, Feb. 21.—Major T. J. Atherton, second in command of the Twelfth (Prince of Wales) royal lancers, now in South Africa, has filed a suit for divorce against his wife, Mabel Louisa Atherton, naming the duke of Westminster as co-respondent. With the announcement of the filing of the suit of Atherton vs. Atherton and Westminster, the long-anticipated divorce proceedings of Maj. Atherton against his wife, with the duke of Westminster figuring in the role of co-respondent, have at length materialized. Within the past thirty-six hours, the lawyer, who is looked upon as the leader of the divorce court bar, has been retained in behalf of the petitioner. The case cannot be aired in court at any rate for some months, and possibly not before the summer. But Maj. Atherton is reported to have already refused a check for £40,000, as compensation for the injury he is said to have sustained, the task ahead of those who are trying to arrange a settlement. The petitioner, in this sensational scandal, is said to be King Edward himself, would seem to be insuperable. ## FRAUDS AT MILWAUKEE Evidence That the City Has Been Defrauded For Several Years.

SYSTEM OF FORGERY

Bogus Certificates Amounting to From $20,000 to $100,000 Were Cashed.

Milwaukee, Feb. 21.—The Sentinel says: Evidence has been brought to light which shows the city of Milwaukee has been systematically defrauded for years. How much the city treasury has suffered is not known exactly, but an investigation which has been conducted for the past two days by City Treasurer Bollow shows that the city has been defrauded out of a sum which is estimated anywhere from $20,000 to $100,000, and it may even be greater.

The investigation has not progressed far enough so that the names of any one of the persons who have been implicated in the frauds are not known. The operations by which this great amount of money was taken from the city treasury have extended over a period of several years, and according to the revelations made thus far, forged city certificates, and the theft of the printing of false city certificates, which City Treasurer Bollow has secured by tracing up a few of the old city certificates, that there has been an organized movement for years to defraud the city. The manner in which these certificates have been issued is as follows: The board of public works and the city comptroller were forced to issue fraudulent certificates, sometimes in the name of the city, and sometimes in the name of the board of public works and the city comptroller. The names of the persons who have been defrauded are not known, but it is believed that the city treasury has been defrauded of a sum which is estimated anywhere from $20,000 to $100,000, and it may even be greater.

NO CUTTING.

Railroads Want Full Price For Bringing Soldiers From Coast.

Chicago, Feb. 21.—The Tribune says: General passenger agents of the transcontinental roads in session in this city considered measures for the absolute maintenance of military rates. Many of the railroads in the Philippines are expected to return home in the near future and the roads are anxious to prevent a scramble for the business by the various lines and the cutting of rates below a paying basis. A pool is now being formed in connection with this business and it is to be divided equally among all competing roads. To carry out this agreement it was decided that no bids shall be made by individual roads, but that hereafter Chairman McLeod, of the Western Passenger association, is to put in a bid for all roads whenever the government asks for bids.

THE STEEL TRADE AT SEA

Possible Effect of the Morgan Consolidation Is Being Discussed and Announcement of Details Is Awaited.

Leading Men Assert True Policy Must Be to Secure Economies and Share Them With the Consumers.

New York, Feb. 21.—Anent the steel situation the Iron Age today says: Pending the official announcement of the details of the Morgan consolidation the trade is at sea as to its possible effect, which no one, whatever his connection with the industry, can escape. A large capitalization and the fact point in that direction, means very heavy fixed charges, which in turn would imply ability on the part of outsiders. Certainly no new enterprises would enter the lists without very substantial financial backing, and with ample provisions for raw material. All will depend upon the management, which must be broad and tactful. Crowding prices would be taken care of many ways. Leading men point out that the true policy must be to secure economies and share them with the consumers. In other words, the plan must be to persistently lower prices. With control of everything from the ground up, there will be little excuse for fluctuations, and a steadying of the markets must be a natural result. It is not that the situation in steel is peculiar, one of the first steps should be a lowering in the price, which would do much to allay public apprehension.

The Iron Age today says of conditions in the iron trade: The feature of the week has been the heavy buying of pig iron, notably for steel purposes. Some large sales of Bessemer pig have been made in the valleys, and the market has risen squarely. A leading interest in the Pittsburgh district has purchased heavily of basic pig iron in nearly all the markets. Birmingham, Virginia, Eastern and Western Pennsylvania furnaces have been sellers, the total quantity of basic pig involved probably being not far from 60,000 to 70,000. There have also been sales aggregating at least 20,000 tons of pig iron by furnaces in the Lebanon valley, and there have been transactions in Pittsburgh of round lots of mill iron. The suspicion that all these transactions have been carried through in order to give the market an appearance of buoyancy in view of the financial developments does not seem justified. In foundry circles the cast iron pipe foundries have been buying some round lots east and west, and there is generally a somewhat better feeling. There is a growing scarcity of steel.

New York, Feb. 21.—A dispatch to the Tribune from London says: The depression in the British iron and steel trades formed the keynote of the day. The present condition of affairs to the shareholders of the Furness railway, over which he presides. He attributed the present condition of affairs to the keen American competition, and expressed the opinion, especially in regard to steel rails, that the competition would become even more acute and that further depression in the home industry was inevitable. Sir Christopher Furness, in proposing at Newcastle that the famous Stephenson works should have bigger accommodation, mentioned as his reason the fact that the American locomotive trade has increased 400 per cent, while England's trade has decreased 25 per cent.

Washington, Feb. 21.—(Special to The Herald.)—Western members of congress and politicians from that section of the country are not entirely pleased over the announcement that P. C. Knox, of Pittsburgh, is slated for attorney general, to succeed Mr. Glazier, who will retire on March 4. These men from the West are of the opinion, first, that the West should be given this place; and second, that it will not be good politics for the president to select a corporation lawyer for this position. Protest have already been lodged at the White House against the appointment of Knox.

EXPEDITION IN ALL FAVOR

Doubtful If Van Waldersee Carries Out His Plans On Account of Energetic Protest On All Sides.

Berlin, Feb. 21.—The expeditionary plans of Field Marshal Count Von Waldersee continue in disfavor with the larger part of the German press. The Vorwaerts today says that if the German government, in view of the latest satisfactory telegrams received from Salan Fu, should not declare its intention to abandon the proposed expedition, the representatives of the nation will force an opportunity in the relating to energetically protest against such plans, which might lead to the gravest international entanglements and indefinitely prolong the war in China. The Reichstag, says the Vorwaerts, cannot be ignored by the government now as it was in the summer of 1900.

Seventeen Liners.

Gardner City, Pa., Feb. 20.—The annual contest for the amateur pigeon shooting championship was begun today on the grounds of the Carteret Gun club, with seventeen men entered. These are George H. Conditions of the contest are 100 birds each man, $100 entrance, 20 yards rise and 30 yards fall. The prize money is anything but favorable and the birds were a fast lot. In the opening round most of the men killed six or seven misses. In the next round only four out of the seventeen killed five or more and ten misses were recorded in the third.

Birds Are To Surrender.

London, Feb. 20.—A steamer departed from Pretoria, Feb. 20, says 800 Boers passed Piennar's River yesterday morning, in the direction of Nylostroom, a police post near Kimberley, South Africa, on the railroad between Pretoria and Pietersburg. It is supposed they purpose surrendering to the British authorities. They were in a deplorable condition, many of them being very old and many were riding donkeys while others walked. All appeared to be in the greatest haste.

The Place to Take Prescriptions.

I have been through many parts of the world, and I have seen many things marvelous in that included in the modus vivendi. There are at least 100 claims staked out in the region, and I do not know whether the prospectors will be permitted to hold the land permanently or not, but I think it is likely that the British government will allow the claims 1000 feet in length, while the United States will allow the claims 100 feet in length. This difference in the size of the claims may make confusion when the border is fixed.

I know of three millionaires from New York city who are going to visit the region, and I think they will be all going out with an eye to business. If conditions warrant, railroad lines will be built and steamship lines will be opened up. The Klondike Navigation will not be open until early in June. Several parties will start in the fall.

HEATED DEBATE IN SENATE

Those Little Perquisites of the Chief Oil In-

Between the Senators.

Committee to Another Adopted By

St. Paul, Feb. 21.—(Special to The Herald.)—The senate took up the Hurd bill for reduction of state oil inspectors' of keeping books of record.

orders with a favorable recommendation from the committee on retrenchment and reform, but when it was reached in committee of the whole, Senator Everett moved to have it referred to the committee on illuminating oils. The motion was agreed to, and because, as he stated, the bill contained vital defects in regard to character of the work to be made, which he thought should be made, which he came to committee of the whole.

Senator Wilson said the purpose of this motion was to refer the bill to a committee of committees, as had been done two years ago. "The committee on illuminating oils," he said, "report back the measure with a recommendation that it go to the committee on judiciary, that committee will want it referred to the committee on agriculture and so on. This was the course pursued two years ago, and the bill was thus defeated. I think it is better to correct defects in the bill in the committee of the whole."

Lieutenant Governor Smith appointed Senator Daugherty as the senate's representative on the joint committee to confer with the federal government on Wisconsin in regard to uniformity in the management of the state lands.

The senate adjourned until Monday night at 8 o'clock.

It was then was proposed by petitioning congress to appoint a joint commission to investigate the advisability and practicability of setting aside a portion of the state lands as an Indian reservation for the establishment of a national park and sanitarium.

IN THE HOUSE.

St. Paul, Feb. 21.—(Special to The Herald.)—Countess has been the burden of petitions from citizens of a dozen or more different counties presented to the house today, the first ten minutes of the session being exclusively devoted to their recitation.

The bill to extend the limits of state park lands was passed by a favorable recommendation by the committee on parks.

Subject matter was presented for

The suggestion that the motion to refer to the illuminated oils committee was to defeat the bill was an insult. "If this is the spirit in which the committee is to consider, then in heaven's name what is the committee for? If you are to be referred to the committee for oil inspection, then it would be better to entirely dispense with the services of the committee."

After some further debate the motion to refer was carried, only about a dozen rising in opposition.

Thereafter the speaker moved that the bill retain its place on general orders and the committee be instructed to report it.

Senator Sheehan made the point that the bill was not properly on general orders and that it should be referred to appropriation and should be considered by the finance committee before it takes up the bill.

Senator Knatovic, in the chair, ruled the point not well taken, an Miller's motion was sustained.

Senator Wilson's bill making compensation of city and county liable to gar-

Among the new bills were these:

D. Peterson—Tax on connecting farm lands from cities when not laid out in town lots.

D. Peterson—Law for chief clerk, inspector, railroad and warehouse having powers to do all work necessary.

Pone—to authorize Kanabie county to sue for the return of the special law which was repealed earlier in the week. Passed under suspension of the rules.

S. D. Peterson—Joint memorial to congress arguing for construction of government road from the school lands. Passed under suspension of the rules.

Afford—Authorizing the deposit by the court clerk of money in disputed cases with county treasurers to await court orders.

McCarthy—To send writs to the Laybourn tax commission bill to be concurred in, on motion of Mr. Laybourn, and the bill was given its final passage. It now goes to the governor for signature.

The only bill on the calendar, the Morris bill, requiring insurance policies to specify whether assessments must be paid by the insured or the insurer.

In committee of the whole, the following were taken up and reported:

To amend section 2 of chapter 16 of the general laws of the state of Minnesota for the purpose of amending the act of the legislature of 1923 of the statutes of Minnesota for the year 1924.

mending the laws relating to publication in newspapers of articles of incorporation.

Senator Silvrright's bill relates to the duties of the state inspector of logs and lumber, making changes in the system.

Mallory's bill to provide for two additional county commissioners for St. Louis county, passed the house today under suspension of the rules.

The house then adjourned till Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

CUBAN CONSTITUTION.

FOR COMPLICITY.

Saloonkeeper Arrested and Afterwards Released.

Kansas City, Feb. 22.—Rhody Redmond, an Omaha saloon keeper, whose place in that city is said to have been frequented by James Callahan before the latter was arrested for complicity in the Cuddey kidnapping, was arrested here today. Chief of Police Hayes examined the prisoner and then had a talk with Chief Donahue of Omaha, over the telephone. Donahue requested that the prisoner be released on promise to report at Omaha tomorrow. This was done and Redmond says he will go to Omaha immediately. Alex. Richards, of Argentine, Kan., a saloon keeper of Kansas City, was arrested with Redmond but no charge could be placed against him and he, too, was released.

FAT STOCK SHOW.

National Breeders' Association Make Plans For One.

Chicago, Feb. 22.—Plans for a second big fat stock show, to be held at the Dexter Park pavilion in the Union Stock Yards, were discussed today at a meeting of the executive committee of the National Breeders' association, in conference with the executive branch of the International Live Stock Exposition company. Nearly 100 representatives of various cattle breeders' associations were present and the opinion of those present was practically unanimous that another exposition should be held. The arranging of premiums and necessary classifications were taken up during the afternoon.

FORMER APPLE WASTE.

Chicago Inter-Ocean: In ordinary apple years the waste of skin and cores amounted to 500 to 600 carloads, and during years of abundant yield it ran as high as 1200 and 1500 carloads. All this waste now goes to the factories which make cheap jellies. There are upwards of 140 of these factories in this country, and they have an annual capacity of some 200,000 pounds.

SANK IN TWENTY MINUTES

Big Ocean Steamship Went to the Bottom Of Golden Gate With Over 300 Souls on Board.

A Large Number Were Rescued, But It Is Feared Many Were Drowned—Steamer Struck a Hidden Rock.

San Francisco, Feb. 22.—The steamer Rio de Janeiro, Capt. Ward, from the Orient and Honolulu, struck on a rock early today just outside the Golden Gate and sank in twenty minutes. A large number of persons were drowned. The steamer had been lying off the heads all night, an unusually heavy fog preventing her from entering the harbor. At 5 o'clock this morning she weighed anchor and headed for the city in charge of Pilot Frank Jordan. Shortly afterwards the vessel struck a hidden rock, and Pilot Jordan shouted for all on board to take to the boats.

The wildest confusion prevailed, the passengers and crew alike scrambled for the boats, and in their endeavor to escape from the rapidly sinking vessel many jumped overboard. Capt. Ward ordered several of the boats alongside, and the ladies of the cabin and some of the gentlemen passengers were placed in them. The boats were manned by part of the crew and headed citywards. So far as known but three of the ship's boats left the vessel. On board the Rio de Janeiro were 29 cabin passengers, 20 in the steerage and 140 in the crew. Tugs and other small boats quickly put out from the city for the scene of the disaster, and a number already have returned with large numbers of the rescued. There is an unverified rumor to the effect that Consul Wildman of Hong Kong and his son were among those who were drowned.

Following is the list of known saved: Mrs. K. West. Mrs. Kelly. Miss Lehman. J. K. Carpenter, an Oakland, Cal., capitalist.

Capt. Hecht of the German navy. William Caspar, of Toledo, Ohio. R. H. Long, of Honolulu. Freight Clerk Englehart. Chief Engineer Hurley of the Rio de Janeiro.

Second Officer Coghill. Carpenter F. K. Tramp. Watchman J. Russell. Storekeeper Boggs. Water Tender D. Lane. Quartermaster R. Mathieson. R. S. Leary. Fred Lumsden.

The steamer Sequola brought in twenty persons not included in the above list. It is reported that Capt. Ward looked himself in his state room and went down with the vessel. Pilot Jordan was severely injured and was taken to the hospital.

Passenger Phil Nussenblatt, of Honolulu, was saved.

The vessel sank in less than twenty minutes and it is certain the list of fatalities will be large. Her smokestack and part of the pilot house are above water. Nineteen of the Chinese are known to have been rescued.

G. Hecht, a German officer, was rescued by the life saving crew and immediately upon being taken ashore he was driven to the California hotel. He said that the fog prevented him from seeing what was going on in the work fastened it about his waist and jumped overboard. He was in the water only a short time when rescued. Pilot Jordan was taken on board yesterday afternoon inside the Farallones. The ship then laid to until 4:30 o'clock this morning, when the weather cleared somewhat. The steamer then started, under full steam, toward Point Bonita. She held her course until 5:20 a. m., when she struck a rock. There was a terrific jar. The steamer kept an even keel for fifteen minutes when she suddenly plunged down, bow first.

A boat had been launched to examine the ship's position. It contained Third Officer Holland and J. K. Carpenter, a capitalist of Oakland. The Rio de Janeiro, in her plunge, smashed the little craft. Carpenter was picked up, but it is not known what became of the third officer. Capt. Ward stood on the deck and superintended the launching of life boats and rafts.

The number of lives lost in the wreck of the Rio is variously estimated at from fifty to 100.

It is almost certain that Consul Wildman, his wife and two children are among the number lost. Nothing has been seen of the family since the vessel struck the rock.

Purser John Rooney is missing and all of his papers are believed to have gone down with the vessel. Unless he is found alive or his body is recovered, it will be impossible to fully determine the total loss of life, and the agents of the company in the Orient and in Honolulu can communicate their passenger lists.

One of the rescued passengers gives it as his belief that the loss of the vessel was caused by the explosion of her boilers.

New York, Feb. 22.—The steamer City of Rio de Janeiro sailed from Hong Kong Jan. 22 for San Francisco, via Yokohama, in command of Capt. Ward, steamship company.

The City of Rio de Janeiro was an iron vessel, built at Chester, Pa., in 1878, by Roach & Co. She is 244 feet long, 38 feet beam and 28.9 feet deep and registered 3448 tons gross and 2275 tons net.

The Minnesotaans are Senator Daugherty and Representatives Laybourn and Mallory, all of Duluth. The members were in favor of as high a tax as can be collected, but opinions differed widely as to what this amount should be, some favoring a tax as low as 3 cents per ton, while others wanted to go as high as 15 cents.

Daugherty favored a low tax, because he thought it better to encourage shipping than to take any action that might tend to divert it to points in other states bordering on the lakes.

St. Paul, Feb. 22.—(Special to The Herald.)—The joint legislative committees from Wisconsin and Minnesota to agree upon a tonnage tax for vessels on the lakes met at the Windsor hotel today and devoted two or three hours discussing the matter. Senator Mills, of West Superior, was chosen chairman of the joint committee, and Representative Laybourn, of Duluth, secretary.

Wisconsin's members are Senator Mills and Representatives Zinn, of Milwaukee, and Overbeck, of Sturgeon Bay.

AN ORGAN GRINDER

He Sues to Recover His Legal Rights as Earl Poulett.

IS THE OLDEST SON

His Father Was Opposed to His Ever Enjoying the Estates.

London, Feb. 22.—Proceedings have been started in behalf of Viscount Hinton, who at one time played an organ in London streets, to eject the youthful Earl Poulett from Hinton house, pending the trial of the question of his right to the earldom. An injunction will be asked for to restrain the present occupant of the family estates from using the title of Earl Poulett.

When Henry, Earl Poulett, died on Jan. 22, 1899, the succession to his title and estates came into dispute. The old earl was thrice married, and the organ grinder claimant to his estate declares that he is the eldest son of the late Earl. Elizabeth Virginia Newman, daughter of a landowner, whom the earl married in 1849, the early second marriage was without issue. In 1870 he contracted a marriage, his second wife being the daughter of Alfred Hugh De Melville, and the son of this union now enjoys the estates and property which the claimant will attempt to possess by process of law.

The alleged Earl Poulett has long lived among the London poor, supporting himself by organ grinding. He has given some study to the matter of his title, and has been successful in his efforts to be recognized as his father's lawful heir, there would be little if any property for him to enjoy. While the earl's son, by his third wife, enjoys the estates and uses the title, his claim thereto has never been confirmed by the courts.

THE DEAD.

Ten Bodies Taken From Pennsylvania Wreck—Others Will Die.

Trenton, N. J., Feb. 22.—The total number of dead in the Pennsylvania wreck at Ruslinga Sliding, near Bordentown last night is now known to be at least ten. There are eight bodies in the Trenton morgue and Coroner Bower went to the scene of the wreck this morning to bring two more bodies to Trenton that had been taken up early this morning. The only dead person yet identified as Engineer Earle, of the "Nelle Bly" express, baggage-master James Birmingham, of the local train, and J. W. Nale, of Trenton, who was a passenger on the local train. It is believed that one of the dead bodies is that of William McKinley, also of Trenton.

Engineer Thompson, of the local train, who is at St. Nicholas hospital is still in a very precarious condition and it is not at all certain that he will recover. Frank Borden, Whitfield, N. J., who had both legs taken off, is weaker than the others and his recovery is doubtful. Two others of the injured, both Italians, are in a serious condition, but all of the others are expected to recover.

Freeman Garwood of the local, who is at the Mercer hospital, is expected to recover. He made the statement that the orders to take the bodies to the morgue were given by the local train, and that the passenger, as it was the third section that crashed into the local, there appears to have been a misunderstanding of orders.

Three bodies were found later in the wreckage. They are those of the Italian and have been identified. This makes the list of dead eleven and the list of injured eighteen. Of the dead, seven are supposed to be Italians and the others are supposed to be Americans. The bodies of Engineer Earle and Baggage-master Birmingham, Conductor Sapp, who is injured, and the body of the local train, were taken to the morgue. Two others of the injured, both Italians, are in a serious condition, but all of the others are expected to recover.

Freeman Garwood of the local, who is at the Mercer hospital, is expected to recover. He made the statement that the orders to take the bodies to the morgue were given by the local train, and that the passenger, as it was the third section that crashed into the local, there appears to have been a misunderstanding of orders.

Three bodies were found later in the wreckage. They are those of the Italian and have been identified. This makes the list of dead eleven and the list of injured eighteen. Of the dead, seven are supposed to be Italians and the others are supposed to be Americans. The bodies of Engineer Earle and Baggage-master Birmingham, Conductor Sapp, who is injured, and the body of the local train, were taken to the morgue. The body of the local train, who was a passenger on the local train, is believed that one of the dead bodies is that of William McKinley, also of Trenton.

VICTIM OF DREADED MAFIA

Salvatore Giovanni, a Prominent Italian of Chicago, Shot Through the Heart, As a Result of Vendetta.

Believed To Have Been Lured From His Home To a Place of Ambush And There Set Upon.

Chicago, Feb. 22.—A murder, believed to have been the result of a vendetta, was committed near Grand and Milwaukee avenues, this city, late last night. Salvatore Giovanni was found shot through the heart with Carlo Battista, who recently arrived from New York, standing over him. Battista says he and the murdered man were warm friends and that, while on the way to Giovanni's home, they were attacked by three men. Battista was not injured, but carried a revolver, which had not been fired. In the dead man's coat pocket, however, was a revolver from which three shots had been fired. This mystifies the police, since Giovanni's wound would have prevented him from restoring the weapon to a place of concealment. In his pockets also were many counterfeit coins. Giovanni was one of the most prominent Italians in Chicago, was a member of several secret societies and came here from New York three years ago.

The police believe that he was a victim of the dreaded Mafia, and hold that he was murdered with the weapon found on him. Battista is being held pending an investigation. Within five hours after the murder the police raided a house at 141 Milton avenue and arrested nine Italians, said to be sympathizers of the Chicago branch of the Mafia. One of the men arrested in Milton avenue, Joseph Mariso, was suffering from a severe bullet wound in the mouth and he was taken to the county hospital. It is believed by the police that Giovanni was lured from his home to the place of ambush and that he was there set upon.

When the raid was made on the house in Milton avenue, the nine men were found huddled in a small room. In the room were found numerous dirks, pistols and revolvers.

It is believed by the police that the murder may have been prompted by a matter that they are puzzled over is the deposition in a divorce case that was found in the possession of the dead man. This is the case of Dr. Ralph Gundove against Colinda Gundove, 700 South Fourth street, St. Louis. It is believed that Giovanni was acting as agent for some attorney and this may have had something to do with the plot to end his life.

Giovanni and Battista were friends in Italy. For seven years Giovanni was a labor contractor in New York and Boston. Three years ago he came to Chicago and conducted a cigar store in Polk street. Six months ago he engaged in the restaurant business. He was a man of considerable means.

At 3 o'clock this morning one of the prisoners said the members of the band belonged to an organization known as the Sicilian society and that Mariso was the president of the organization.

It was found among the letters in Giovanni's pockets. One of these, written by a man in St. Louis, spoke of a murder committed in Mulberry street, New York, to which Giovanni was a witness. The Mafia is mentioned in the case, but as yet there is no evidence directly implicating that society.

In connection with the murder, the son of Frank Morici, 57 Grand avenue, was raided by the police today. The proprietor and ten inmates were placed under arrest.

WHITEMAN UNDER ARREST

Capt. McCluskey, New York Detective, Says He Is the Most Skillful Bank Swindler in the Country.

New York, Feb. 22.—Alonzo J. Whiteman, alias A. D. Wilson, formerly a resident of Duluth, is under arrest here on a charge of grand larceny. It is reported he is wanted in Boston for passing worthless checks.

In the opinion of Capt. McCluskey, formerly chief of the detective bureau, Whiteman is the most skillful bank swindler in the United States. With three alleged associates he was arrested in this city in November, 1899, charged with swindling banks to the extent of $100,000. He was acquitted. Then he was taken to Chicago for trial for swindling hotels, and for a few months was confined in the house of correction, but he gained his liberty last fall. He has had a checkered career since leaving Duluth. In addition to the incidents mentioned above, he has been in many other scrapes. Once he was arrested in New York and taken to San Francisco on a charge of negotiating a bogus draft there. He was tried and convicted and sentenced to a long term in San Quentin penitentiary. His defense was that he made the draft in good faith on a friend who owed him money and had promised to pay the draft, but neglected to do so. After being imprisoned for a year in San Francisco jail, pending an appeal to the supreme court, for which he wrote an elaborate brief, he was granted a new trial, but the prosecuting attorney decided that under the supreme court ruling he could not convict Whiteman, and the case was dismissed.

MORRIS AS FEDERAL JUDGE

Will Be Indorsed By the House Delegation If the Bill For Second Judge For Minnesota Passes.

Washington, Feb. 22.—Congressman Fletcher had a conference yesterday with Speaker Henderson and requested him to allow consideration for the bill creating a new federal judge for Minnesota. The speaker would not give any encouragement, saying it was too late in the session. The latest development relating to the situation is that Judge Page Morris is the man whom the delegation in the house will endorse for the position, provided the Duluth member will accept.

There is not much doubt expressed that he will be ready to accept, as it is understood he is anxious to get out of political life. It has also been his ambition to get on the federal bench and he would gladly take a life position of that kind.

TRAP SHOOTERS

Positions of Contestants in Long Island Championship Shoot.

Garden City, L. I., Feb. 22.—There were four absentees from the list of seventeen trap-shooters entered to contest for the amateur pigeon shooting championship, which opened yesterday, when the event was resumed at the Carteret Gun club grounds today. These were R. A. Welch, C. S. Guthrie, W. S. Hill and Yale Dolen, who had missed 15, 13, 12 and 11 birds respectively out of their first 45. The weather condition was unfavorable. When the men had shot five rounds, completing just half of the contest, there were some changes in the standing of the leaders. Dr. Wilson, who held the lead with 44 birds killed, missed his 4th bird. C. A. Peirce killed straight and tied the doctor for first honors, each having five misses marked against him.

PRILATE DEAD.

CHESS TOURNAMENT.
Janowski Still Leads in the International Contest.

Monte Carlo, Feb. 22.—Janowski was a winner once more today in the twelfth round of the international chess tournament, defeating Schlechter, his closest rival. Janowski's score now is nine games won and two lost, while that of Schlechter is eight games won and three and a half lost. Marco won from Gunsberg. When the noon adjournment was taken the games between Blackburne and Teichgrin and Mieses and Scheve were unfinished. Schlechter prevented Whinawer from playing today and Dittler, who was to have met him profited by forfeit.

TIM MAY NOT COME

President Hart May Not Release Catcher Donahue After All.

CHANCE TO SELL HIM

St. Paul Wants Him and Will Pay a Good Price.

St. Paul is making desperate efforts to get Tim Donahue away from Duluth. The star catcher, who has practically agreed to manage the Duluth team in the Northwestern league, fears that President Hart, of the Chicago National league, will sell him to St. Paul and a day or so ago he went to Mr. Hart and demanded his release. The Chicago Times-Herald gives the following account of the meeting:

"Editor James A. Hart or Timothy Donahue—developments failed to tell from an actual trip from the fifteenth floor of the Fisher building, Master Jokes sprang at Timothy's recollection that he was a new overcoat combined to prevent a baseball battle that might have been as serious as the popular idea of war handed down by Gen. Sherman.

"Early yesterday morning Tim, as he goes with the West Side fans, took the route traversed annually by Capt. Adrian Anson to President Hart's office. He had acquired a husky voice and his overcoat made him look taller than usual. He reached the side of his employer's desk, and, drawing himself up to his full length, it is reported, demanded from Mr. Hart his release from all connection with the Chicago Baseball club.

"Joker Loftus and Clark Griffith, who were present, fell out of their chairs, and Tim, crossing his legs so that his left foot was given a perpendicular to the floor, waited for a reply. 'I won't give it to you until I get through with it or so long as it is any good to the Chicago Baseball club,' returned President Hart.

"You will," says Tim. 'I won't,' says Hart. 'For a brief moment Joker Loftus and Clark Griffith heard nothing, but Tim and 'won't.' Then the president of the Chicago Baseball club showed Catcher Timothy Donahue the location of all the doors leading from the office to the elevator shaft. Loftus sprang two Jokes and Tim weakened momentarily.

"Are you coming down stairs?" says Tim. "When I get ready," says Hart. "I'll be there when you come down."

"At that time the door like war, Tim and a friend with him adjourned to the main floor. And Tim waited. He held post until after the noon hour, and then he adjourned to Dan Walsh's board.

About 2 o'clock Joker Loftus and Charles Connelley found Tim still waiting. Loftus tried to joke him. Tim returned with a suggestion to "cut it over" unless the Chicago club was ready to fork over his release and $200 it owed him for playing good ball last year.

"Then Tim asked how long it would be before Hart would come down. 'Mr. Hart would be down in a lunch within a few minutes,' said Joker Loftus said.

"I wouldn't be too tough, Tim," said Dan Walsh. "The governor is against it, and besides the boxing games is dead anyway."

"Then there was nothing but joking and talking about releases and $200 accounts unsettled, joking was the feature. At exactly 5 o'clock the president of the Chicago ball club walked into the board. Friends on both sides quickly cleared from the center of the floor.

Proprietor Walsh looked nervous, and the porter moved the popcorn stand into an adjoining room. Comiskey took out his watch and Tim, walking straight toward the president, from whose office he had been elected six hours before, spoke up in his still husky voice and said:

"Have a drink, Jim?" "Comiskey put up his watch and the porter moved the popcorn stand back into position. Tim explained to Hart that the hunt could be eliminated by moving the pitcher five feet toward the plate, and that Jimmy Ryan was a good fellow, even if he did want to sign a Chicago catcher for his St. Paul club, that it was Ryan's proposal to buy Donahue's release that caused the bloodless battle."

It seems that President Hart is disposed to turn Donahue over to the St. Paul club, which is to be managed the coming season by Jimmy Ryan, the veteran outfielder of Chicago. Donahue is anxious to come to Duluth, but the Northwestern league is under the National league agreement and in case he is sold to St. Paul, complete release of a fight, and unless the National league agreement should be broken by the Northwestern, it looks very much as if Duluth would have the small end of the deal.

Donahue prefers playing here and it is only recently that President Hart said he had no objection to his coming to this city. Tim explained to Hart that his release is better to the Chicago club than an outright release to Duluth with no financial consideration involved.

AMUSEMENTS.

THE APOLLO CLUB. This evening the concert of the Apollo club will be given at the First Methodist church. The members of the chorus arrived from Minneapolis this afternoon. They number sixty, and the chorus is the finest thing in the line of a male chorus in the Northwest. Miss Clara Williams, of Minneapolis, a young singer of fine ability, will be heard in the program.

"THE DUKE'S JESTER." Tonight at the Lyceum Frederick Warde and Mr. and Mrs. Spencer will be seen in "The Duke's Jester." This play has won the reputation of being a hilarious and funny play, but deprives none of these great artists their standing as classic readers, inasmuch as the diction of the story abounds with those charming metaphors and similes bordering on the classic, expressed in the rich and smooth language that shows the master hand. The story is laid in Italy at the close of the sixteenth century, and is based on love, intrigue and adventure, with a frivolous and fun-making environment.

"UNCLE TOM'S CABIN." "Uncle Tom's Cabin" drew another large audience at the Sixth Avenue theater last evening. The play as presented by the Cummings & Alexander company seems to give excellent satisfaction. This afternoon a matinee performance is being given, and tonight and tomorrow night the play will be repeated.

IT MEANS MUCH

Canadian Northern Road Will Be of Much Value to Duluth.

Duluth people seem not to have realized the meaning of the plans of the Manitowish government for railroad connections with Duluth in their fullest extent. Perhaps one reason for this is that the plan has been on the carpet so long that people have become calloused on the subject and somewhat skeptical about it. President Greenway during his regime apparently had the matter settled once or twice, but it fell through. This time, however, it would seem that success is ready to crown the efforts of the Manitowish people to free themselves from the discomfort and expense of the Canadian Pacific monopoly, and if that is true, it means a good deal to Duluth.

The plan, as The Herald announced last week, includes the building of a line of railroad from Sprague, a point on the Italy River road of the Canadian Northern, to Duluth. The reason this is wanted is that the Manitoba people want a winter outlet for their wheat. Now their only outlet is over the Canadian Pacific, and as that road has a monopoly, its rates are not what the Manitoba folks like. In the summer they can and do use the lake route from Fort William, but in the winter they are confined to the Canadian Pacific line.

The meaning of this to Duluth is not merely that a new line will enter this city. It means the opening up of a large area of territory that is tributary to Duluth, and that will, through the influence of a railroad, become settled with farmers. The progress of Duluth is a measure of the development of its surrounding territory, and every move toward developing this section means more business for Duluth. Coming down from the north, such a railroad will pass through all kinds of land, and that will, through the influence of a railroad, become settled with farmers. The progress of Duluth is a measure of the development of its surrounding territory, and every move toward developing this section means more business for Duluth.

Pink the Year's Color.

The Winter Brides Have Furthered the Popularity of Pink By Unanimously Favoring the "Rose Wedding."

Long Cloak the Favorite Now.

The Eton Will Reign Later.

Paris, Feb. 5.—(Special to The Herald.)—The window decorator is accounted one of the important personages on the swiftest of staff. There are some few exclusive world-renowned shops along the Rue de la Paix that consider window displays as rather beneath their dignity, but the majority of shops prepare eye feasts for the feminine world that are alluring beyond reckoning. So attractive do the tempters make these windows that the tempted are never satisfied with just a passing glance.

The windows where just one color prevails are in high favor. The color note is generally given by the introduction of a popular flower, and around this flower are grouped divers confections all repeating the given color, often running through the whole scale of its shades. The orchid window is always delightful and embraces the "thousand and one" mauve tints just shading off of white and reaching way down into the deep purples. The forget-me-not window is more uniform in shade, as is also the Parma violet window.

Such a fetching window all decked out in soft rose pinks adopted the pink carnation for its motif. As a background for the bevy of rose confections, the decorator has chosen white tulle all crumpled in careless folds that held loose sprays of carnations. Every article on exhibition was so thoroughly irresistible that, unimpaired of February winds, I stood full ten minutes peering in at the window and making mental notes of its treasures. There were the most fascinating suspender karters, the elastic sheathed in gathered pink satin ribbon and ornamented with strass buckles. Such a tempting array of ajorettes, all in pink, were dotted along in the folds of tulle. Often they consisted of one enormous pale pink carnation made of panne velvet. The smaller carnations were wrought into a semi-crown and were to be tied low with narrow pink velvet ribbons at the back of the hair knot. There were hosts of saucy pink scarves ornamented with appliques of lace or ruffles of comet ribbon. One rather voluminous affair of pink chiffon was dotted with black panne paillettes.

The prettiest pink corsage on exhibition was a blouse made of puffed de sole tucked into the upper part and gathered loosely into a silver belt. It had a yoke and collar of cream chiffon covered with a network of narrow silver braid. The braid was repeated around the lower part of the blouse, forming basques of network. Puffed de sole was employed for sleeves that were laced across with the braid and finished with puffs of cream chiffon covered with "French knots" in pink silk floss. A scarf of dotted chiffon was draped along the lower part of the yoke and fell in jabot fashion to the waist line.

French knots worked in the heavier qualities of floss are never than spangles or chenille dots, and not only do they ornament the gauzier materials, but they are used extensively in trimming the heavier qualities of silk and cloth.

A dainty dance gown in this rose-colored window was made of the palest mousseline de sole over a deep shade of pink tulle. The entire surface of the mousseline de sole was spotted with "French knots" in a deep shade of pink floss. The skirt was made plain over the hips and at the back the pinkness was gathered full into the waistband. It was trimmed around the bottom with innumerable tiny ruffles of mousseline de sole that reached quite above the knees. Fifteen strips of deep rose panne velvet ribbon were drawn up over these frills and caught with tiny strass buckles.

The decollete corsage was one mass of ruffles on the upper part. It was trimmed with the deeper pink panne velvet ribbons that formed a high centre, and at regular intervals the ribbons mounted in brette fashion over the ruffles. These were caught along the neck of the corsage with tiny gold pins joined with gold chains. The sleeves were composed of tiny ruffles of the mousseline de sole, and were supported by straps of the velvet ribbon. The irresistible evening wrap among

Jap Rose Soap

Money cannot buy better materials.
No skill can make a soap less harmful or more delicate.

Not a soap in the world has a penny more of value.

This collection of pink creations was built of pale rose gossamer entirely tucked. It was a straight loose half-length affair for sleeves that were laced across with quilted white satin. The yoke and high Medici collar were of white satin covered with appliques of cream lace. This was bordered with a scarf composed of innumerable ruffles of pink chiffon that gave rather the effect of a Breton hood at the back. The scarf was caught with tiny gold pins joined with gold chains. The sleeves were composed of tiny ruffles of the mousseline de sole, and were supported by straps of the velvet ribbon. The irresistible evening wrap among posed entirely of the palest pink panne velvet carnations. The narrow brim of the hat was lined with a large square strass buckle. A tall spray of the carnations mounted at the left side of the crown. This hat was intended to be worn quite over the face.

Pink is voted the most popular color for evening wear this winter, and the winter brides have furthered the popularity of pink, unanimously favoring the "rose wedding."

LONG CLOAK IS FAVORED.

Until Easter It Will Be the Accepted Garment.

New York, Feb. 15.—Though spring fashions hang in the shop windows, it is an indisputable fact that a month, at least, more of winter remains. In this climate it is a bold woman who thinks spring thoughts to the extent of wearing spring apparel before the last of March, and many a one who prefers to await the prudent and accepted time of Easter, before coming out in spring array.

The two months that now linger are important from a fashionable standpoint, because this is the season, if not of gaiety, at least of activity. "Eton" though lovely woman may not, during Lent, attend the usual quota of balls and parties, she will not prefer to await the street upon little excursions of her own, and there are those who assert, and usually with reason, that winter makes the time of Lent an excuse for shopping and running about to an extent not warranted at any other time. Leaving that under and much-disputed point out of the argument, it is an undeniable fact that the activity of the cloak departments is on the increase during the months of February and March, and woman is supplying herself with garments for walking.

Dame Fashion, looking critically at the approaching styles, has placed a stamp of her approval upon the long cloak. Other styles that have come up to be admired by her have been passed solidly by, but upon the long cloak she has laid a caressing hand. If the long cloak was fashionable last spring, it will certainly still continue to increase in vogue the coming months. It is said at this writing to declare it will positively be the cloak of spring.

The straight, severe automobile has been so changed that you can scarcely find it among the long cloaks, yet all the new comers are its cousins, bearing the strong family resemblance to it. For this reason the woman who possesses an automobile may be sure that she will be in style with it this spring, no matter what may be the particular style of long coat that may happen to be the vogue.

Fashion hesitates before the many long cloaks, admiring all. There are so many different makes that it is impossible to tell which will be the most popular.

able to tell which will be the most popular. The Empire has been modified greatly and is no longer the little short-waisted thing that once you knew. Perhaps it would be more strictly true to say that there are now two varieties of Empire or Josephine long cloak. One is the cloak that is belted nearly under the arms. Where there is no belt a belt is indicated by the stitching which goes round and round the figure. But this style is so trying to all but very slender figures that it has been generally abandoned. It is said that the only woman who can wear these high-belted Josephines are those of great slenderness, without too much height. That is the ideal Josephine cloak figure.

The other Josephine has a belt that is high in the back, but which comes down to a point in the middle of the front. It is a very broad belt and may consist of bands of cloth put on to look like a belt, or it may consist of stitching.

A new cloak, just ordered for Mrs. W. K. Van derbilt, is a cloak of London smoke gray cloth, of medium weight, not too heavy for spring. It is intended also for yachting. The cloak has a small sailor collar. When turned up there were points back of the ears and at each side of the chin. The lapels were broad and pointed at the top and were stitched. Stitched velvet will have quite a vogue this spring, and where formerly there were used stitched bands of cloth, there will now be stitched bands of velvet.

The sleeves of this London smoke coat were very large and gradually grew larger still, toward the hand. They were free at the wrist and finally terminated in a cuff trimmed with velvet bands. Owing to the length of the sleeves the top suggested down over the cuff, making a puff that was becoming to the arm as all those wrist puffs are.

The skirt of this cloak had the narrow empire belt to the foot of the cloak. The tucks were placed at intervals of six inches and were no larger than a good-sized cord.

Many of the cloaks of spring are copied from ancient and very classic models. Indeed, there are signs that a revival of the classic period may be dawning, just as a revival of the empire period dawned and may now be passing away.

Fancy a Roman toga in real and every day life. A toga of this kind was constructed for Mrs. Cornelia West out of the most fragile of pale shades of tan. It was not an opera cloak, but was intended for driving, and perhaps for shopping, and who knows but for walking. It was of a cape design, so arranged that one end could be thrown over the shoulder, precisely as the hero in a Shakespearean drama tosses his toga over his shoulder, and the effect was less dramatic than that. Around the shoulder there was another and smaller cape, this one finished with long ends and tails.

A cape of the toga order could be recommended for the domestic woman who does her own marketing and her own running about. If made long and very full in front it would hang more gracefully over her burden of small bundles than the long capes that are now the style. A very ornamental cloak could close at the neck and the toga, being very full, would hang shut of its own accord.

In defense of the long cape, which is undoubtedly back, it can only be said that it is handy. That it is graceful no one claims; but that it is convenient no one will dispute. Capes are made in all the medium weight cloths, and are lined with various materials, the latest being the golf plaid cloth, which is used for the lining of the smoothest of ladies' capes. But the cape hides the figure and so woman with a particle of chic is willing to conceal her graceful outlines.

French women would prefer death or a cold to a cape, and will not hesitate to express her dislike of the enveloping garment with an abundance of vehement gestures.

WEEK'S TRADE

As a Whole Shows Expansion Despite Drawback of Severe Weather.

New York, Feb. 22.—Broadstreet's of Feb. 21, so far as trade as a whole has shown further expansion this week despite severe weather tending to check trade at some points. The strength of building materials in the cotton manufacturing trade, brought about by dullness in cotton goods at first, has been really improved by the delivery of material in the week. The lines noting improvement this week is the dry goods trade which is reported active on spring account by jobbers. The boot and shoe industry has likewise continued in a satisfactory shape, and some varieties of leather reflect recent activity in the leather trade.

Steel in the cruder forms have been very strong at Central and Eastern markets and considerable advances are reported in pig iron and steel billets. Heavy sales are reported from Pittsburgh, Birmingham and other markets. Bessemer pig iron at Pittsburgh is now selling at $15.75, while a premium of $1.00 is exacted on immediate delivery of round billets. The official quotation of $19.75 still maintains good demand. Merchant bars were advanced $2 a ton late last week and 1.5 cents is now the market price. Structural material is reported steadily active in some respects, in fact, the state of this trade as a whole is the strongest since before the collapse last spring. Export trade in steel, foreign iron and steel markets are steadily going lower and the fear of discriminating duties against American iron and steel is evident, although the first mention that that line of business involves a very small amount of business.

The strength of building materials of all kinds, particularly of white and yellow pine and builders' hardware, has been notable and from many cities the report that a large amount of building work has been done the coming spring. Coffee strengthened on better consumptive demand. Tea held its better sale, as the prospects for any immediate change in the present tariff by congress become less probable. Tea is higher, in sympathy with speculative activity abroad. The cereals show little definite movement, taking the week as a whole, excepting in flour, which is $1.00 higher.

Wheat is fractionally higher and corn and oats are lower. The corn situation is not able, in view of this being a season of increasing stocks. Support comes from the active foreign and home demand for this cereal, consumptive requirements for which seem to have definitely overtaken production.

Wheat, including all shipments for five days, aggregated 3,424,302 bushels, against 3,414,878 last week, 3,660,870 in the corresponding week of 1899, 3,544,859 in 1898 and 3,662,799 in 1897. From July 1 to date this season exports are 129,274,073 bushels against 130,517,211 last season and 182,900,253 in 1898-99.

Corn exports for the week aggregated 2,267,125 bushels against 4,700,422 last week, 2,061,175 in this week last year, 2,071,007 in 1898 and 3,062,799 in 1897. From July 1 to date this season exports are 129,274,073 bushels against 130,517,211 last season and 182,900,253 in 1898-99.

Europane failures in the United States for the week number 219, as against 225 last week, 183 in this week a year ago, 220 in 1898, 183 in 1897 and 238 in 1897.

Canadian failures for the week number 24, as against 26 last week, 28 in this week a year ago, 29 in 1898, 45 in 1898 and 50 in 1897.

The reports that the Balkan plague has appeared among the British troops in the Balkans, in the form of ulcers, have been met by the British government with a statement that the British troops are not in the Balkans.

Now that King Edward's coming to Germany is considered a certainty several newspapers indulge in unfavorable comments on the matter. The Deutsche Tageszeitung says: "At the best it will be a private and official affair, not to the German people."

Intense cold continues throughout Germany. In some parts of the country the weather is the coldest in twenty-five years. The Moselle at Coblenz is frozen solid. At Hirschberg the temperature is 20 degrees below zero centigrade, and in the Upper Harz 30 degrees. From all the mountainous regions come reports of enormous snowfalls.

Members of House Criticise the Large Appropriations in Fortification and Other Measures.

Washington, Feb. 23.—When the senate met today a bill was passed relating to railroad rights-of-way over lands reserved for reservoirs. A resolution asking the secretary of the interior for information as to fulfillment of treaty stipulations with the Santee Sioux Indians was passed.

Bills were passed as follows: Authorizing a street car bridge across the Alabama river at Montgomery, Ala.; authorizing construction of a bridge across Savoca bay, Calhoun county, Texas.

Mr. Depew called up the St. Louis exposition bill. Mr. Teller, of Colorado, and Mr. Pettigrew, of South Dakota, said they would not object, providing they could offer amendments to the bill. Mr. (Missouri) stated that he was compelled to leave the city shortly on account of his health. The measure, which the friends of the measure would accept even objectionable amendments in order to get through.

Mr. Teller then offered an amendment providing that the rates of the exposition should be closed on Sunday, and it was adopted without division.

Mr. Tillman offered an amendment to the bill which previously passed the senate, providing for a government exhibit at the Charleston, S. C., exposition. It made an appropriation of $250,000 for the government exhibit. On motion of Mr. Teller an amendment providing for the closing of the exposition on Sunday was adopted and the Tillman amendment was then agreed to without division. Then without a dissenting vote the bill was passed.

Senators Depew, Proctor and Vest were absent from the exposition named as conferees on the exposition bill.

In the senate this afternoon, Mr. Morgan, in his speech demanding that the Nicaragua canal bill should be made the regular order of the senate, said that every parliamentary strategy was being used to defeat this bill. He thought it time for plain talk, while being kicked and cuffed about by King Edward VII; also, that it was time for the pathway for the canal. That treaty now was being given to this purely American enterprise.

Mr. Spooner, on occasion to show why, in his opinion, the Nicaragua canal bill should not pass at this time. He referred to the retirement of the pathway for the canal. That treaty now was being given to this purely American enterprise.

British Cabinet Considered Canal Treaty But Announced No Result.

CROKER'S NEW HOUSE

He Buys Land to Secure Private Entrance to His Purchase.

New York, Feb. 23.—A dispatch to the Tribune from London says: Washington's birthday was not celebrated, unless the British cabinet took advantage of the occasion and passed sentence upon the amended canal treaty. It is extremely probable that the question was considered and decided at the cabinet meeting, and that the result will speedily be announced. The rejection of acceptance of the amendments will not involve a diplomatic consultation, but the treaty will need to be extended if there are amendments to amendments, and the way is left open for prolongation of the negotiations. The next reception of the foreign office will be on Tuesday, when the result of the cabinet action will be communicated to the American ambassador, if there be no premature disclosures. The whole subject is regarded with indifference by the English press. This may be either a good or a bad sign for the settlement of an international controversy of long standing.

A curious explanation of Richard Croker's recent purchases of land at Letcombe has reached London from a well-informed source. As the entrance to Moat house is virtually in the village, he cannot come and go without passing several cottages, and having everybody in the neighborhood know what he is about. The new purchase, with the entrance to the porters' lodge, will screen him from public observation. Moat house is about five miles from Warrington station and the old mill, which will be replaced by the porters' lodge, lies where a field road is regarded with indifference by the English press. This may be either a good or a bad sign for the settlement of an international controversy of long standing.

WILDMAN DROWNED

United States Consul General At Hong Kong And His Whole Family Perished On Board the Rio de Janeiro.

Number of Lives Lost Not Accurately Known, But One Hundred and Twenty-two Persons Unaccounted For.

San Francisco, Feb. 23.—The sinking of the Pacific Mail steamer Rio de Janeiro after striking a rock in the Golden Gate during the dense fog yesterday morning was the most appalling disaster this coast has known for many years. Most of the bodies of the 120 and more victims are at the bottom of the sea, and many of them may never be recovered. The water where the ship lies is deep and the current swift, and the dead, with most of the wreckage, probably will be carried far out into the Pacific. The number of lives lost may never be known exactly, owing to the fact that the ship's records were lost, and it is practically impossible to tell just how many Chinese were in the steerage. The call today, basing its figures on statements of the Pacific Mail officials, says that 122 persons perished, the Chronicle gives the number at 128, and the Examiner states that 111 cannot be accounted for. The vessel is a sugar plantation at Spreckelsville, H. I., Mrs. Julia Dolman, aged 55, stewardess on the Rio; a Japanese identified as the engineers' mess boy, name unknown; four unidentified Chinese.

No attempt has been made to place the blame for the disaster, but the Pacific Mail company's officials state that the pilot was subject to the order of Capt. Ward, who went down with the vessel.

DEATH AND DESPAIR

Can Be Averted—Healing Without Medicine or Surgery.

Crowds Continue to Throng the Office of This Wonderful Physician and Gifted Magnetic Healer.

Every week day from 9 a. m. to 7:30 p. m. the strange scenes made possible are witnessed at the office of Dr. Mitchell, where he heals the sick. We have seen men treat the sick by the laying on of hands, before, but never have we seen the dumb made to speak until we went to Mitchell, and there before many people saw the doctor, with nothing but his hands, restore the voice of a woman who had been dumb for years. We also saw him take an old gentleman 75 years old, who was as dead as a post, and in three minutes under Dr. Mitchell's treatment he could hear the softest whisper. The next was a lady with her hand swollen to four times its natural size, and in five minutes, under the application of Dr. Mitchell's hands, the swelling disappeared, and the lady could use it as well as ever. An old lady who had two stiff shoulders and was very deaf came next, and it took the doctor but a few minutes to loosen her shoulders and restore her hearing, and when she found she could both hear and use her arm she burst into tears, and asked to see Dr. Mitchell. She stated she had no name but she would hereafter be able to earn a living. Her earnest appeal for the Divine blessing to rest upon Dr. Mitchell, touched the hearts of those in the office and quite a number of dollars right then and there found their way into the old lady's pocket.

If you are suffering from disease and deformity, you should consult this great healer, whose wonderful power is a foe to disease.

Mrs. Burel from the range had suffered for years with female complaints and could not walk or stand without a Babcock uterine supporter. Dr. Mitchell cured her with a few treatments. Mrs. alms, had suffered for years with a cancer. It was five and one-half inches across, and Dr. Mitchell cured it in ten weeks.

Mrs. Buecher cured of lame and enlarged knee joints and numbness of left side. We know of Dr. Mitchell's wonderful healing power is to be convinced that he has been blessed by nature with a force that but one in a million has. Many cases require repeated treatments while many severe cures are effected in one treatment. Is any cure for you Dr. Mitchell can cure you.

IS DIFFICULT.

Work of Searching For Rio's Dead Is Greatly Impeded.

San Francisco, Feb. 23.—A pall of fog and rain today enveloped the spot where the City of Rio De Janeiro sank yesterday morning. During the night a rain storm of unusual proportions blew up outside the Golden Gate, making the work of the searchers for the Rio's dead a task of difficulty. Small boats have hovered around the scene of the wreck for the past twenty-four hours. Bodies were frequently seen floating in and out of the harbor with the tide, but the roughness of the water greatly hindered the work of recovery, and only one or two were drawn from the water this morning. If any of the Rio's passengers or crew lived on the water until sunset without meeting success, they must have perished before this, as the hardest person scarcely could have lived through last night's storm. Some of the survivors may have been washed out the Marin county shore at obscure points, but if so, none of them has yet reported. Wreckage strewn the shore on both sides of the Golden Gate and beach combers and fishermen are reaping a harvest.

DREDGE LAUNCHED

Hull of Duluth Dredge & Dock Company's New One In Water.

WILL BE A MONSTER

Capacity Will Be Double That of the Ordinary Dipper Dredge.

The monster new dredge that has been building at the Duluth Dredge and Dock company's yards in this city was launched at 3 o'clock this afternoon. A force of men have been at work for the past few days cutting the ice out of the slip preparatory to the launching and it was expected that the big dredge will slip into the water without any hitch. The dredge, when completed, will be the largest and best equipped on the lakes. After the launching today the machinery and other appliances, such as the dipper etc., will be placed. It is expected that it will be completed inside of thirty days and will begin work just as soon as the ice is out in the spring. Work will now be rushed on the two new scoops that the company will be in commission next spring.

The new dredge is 140 feet long, with 41-foot beam and a depth of thirteen feet. It is to be built, as constructed throughout of Washington fir and oak, nearly 1,000,000 feet of lumber being used in their construction. Owing to the length of the dredge and the stiffness required in its construction, this timber has been found the most available. The three spuds, or anchor posts used on the dredge, are of Washington fir and are the largest pieces of timber ever brought to Duluth. Each spud is eight feet long and four inches square. The three pieces contain about 800 feet of timber and are valued at $1 a hour. A great deal of trouble was experienced by the contractors at the coast in finding fir trees of a size from which they could get timbers of this size. The spuds weigh about 60,000 pounds and will not be put on the dredge until after the hull is launched.

The new dredge is of the dipper class, the dipper having a capacity of 7½ cubic yards, and making two dips a minute. It is figured that the dredge will accomplish about 100 per cent more work in the same time as the company's largest dipper dredge, which has not the same dipper capacity, and makes but one dip a minute. One hundred thousand cubic yards of material is the estimated amount of work that can be accomplished by the new dredge under ordinary circumstances. Not many years ago 24,000 cubic yards a month was considered good work for a dredge of the size of the new one.

IN FAVOR OF STEAM

Council Committee Prefers Electric Plant Operated By That Power.

WILL SO RECOMMEND

Plant to Be Located on Garfield Avenue Near Gas Plant.

Out of the five propositions for building a municipal electric light plant the council committee on light and water has decided to recommend the building of a plant in which the electricity shall be generated by steam power.

The decision was made this morning at a meeting held in the mayor's office attended by Aldermen Cochrane, Wing and Rothwell, Mayor Hugo, City Attorney Mitchell and City Engineer McGilvray.

Should the council act favorably on the committee's recommendation, as it probably will, the electric light plant would be located down Garfield avenue next to the gas works. This site is owned by the city, and is the most central place for the plant. The committee would be for a system of 500 arc lights and would cost $120,000. The people of the city at last spring's municipal election voted in favor of issuing $110,000 worth of bonds to build it.

It would be necessary to build a boiler house and engine room of brick, with cemented floors and self-supporting steel smokestack lined with brick, at a cost of fully $150,000.

The system of poles and wires and lamps strung over a large territory of Lester Park to extreme West Duluth would cost $54,714.

The generating plant would consist of three first-class cross compound condensing engines of 225 horse power capacity each, with three 200 horse power boilers, costing $37,100.

The electrical equipment would consist of alternating current generators, switchboards and other necessary accessories, costing $16,000. That would bring the cost of the plant to $148,000, and then there would be about $350 to expend in tools, engineering and incidentals.

To operate such a plant it would cost the city $27,327 a year for coal, insurance, depreciation, depreciation, salaries and incidentals.

The cost to the city under this system of lighting would be $2.50 per light per year. At present the city receives taxes from the Commercial Light and Power company, equivalent to $1.50 per light per year, which would not be received under the municipal ownership.

The total cost of the plant would be $148,000, and then there would be about $350 to expend in tools, engineering and incidentals.

MORGAN'S OPINION

Minority Report on Senate Resolution on Hay-Pauncefote Treaty.

ON NICARAGUA CANAL

Believes Majority Report Was Made at Instigation of President.

Washington, Feb. 23.—Senator Morgan, of the committee on foreign relations, has made a minority report upon the resolution declaring that the ratification of the Hay-Pauncefote treaty is not a condition precedent to the construction of the Nicaragua canal, and that the United States should proceed with that work, regardless of the existence of the Clayton-Bulwer agreement. The committee made an adverse report upon the resolution a few days ago, and Senator Morgan contended the wisdom of that action. Senator Morgan intimates that the adverse report was made to conform to the view of the president. On this point he says: "The resolutions have my hearty approval, and I cannot admit that the president has any right to direct congress as to the time when it is expedient to express approval of his solemn act of making these agreements with Nicaragua and Costa Rica. This claim was made in the committee, and his views as to the expediency of action were stated as grounds of objection to the resolutions. From this view of the duty of the senate, I wholly dissent."

In another connection, he says on the same point: "We are bound to agree with Costa Rica and Nicaragua as to the terms on which canal privileges will be extended to the United States, if this subject is to be settled by agreement. We have so agreed, and the question is whether it is a question of apprehension, or under a subordination to the criticism that British opinion may inflict upon us, we will permit that government to compel the president to abandon these agreements. They are honorable, just, lawful and inconceivably valuable, and once abandoned we cannot expect a peaceful resumption of them."

Mr. Morgan also takes the position that the president has already outlined the position of the United States toward the Clayton-Bulwer treaty by negotiating the protocols with Costa Rica and Nicaragua. "It is quite as clear," he says, "that the president in making these agreements in the name of the United States, definitely disregarded any claim of right that Great Britain could assert to the effect that her consent was necessary to such action on his part as president. And equally he asserted the right of congress to disregard any claims of Great Britain to prevent the acquisition of such rights from Costa Rica and Nicaragua, and to appropriate money for that distinct purpose. Beyond question he has bound himself as president and as plenipotentiary to these agreements, and if they violate the rights of Great Britain or give her just under the wrong and alone for it and repudiate and impeach what the president has done, or sustain his action."

MORGAN'S OPINION

Minority Report on Senate Resolution on Hay-Pauncefote Treaty.

ON NICARAGUA CANAL

Believes Majority Report Was Made at Instigation of President.

Washington, Feb. 23.—Senator Morgan, of the committee on foreign relations, has made a minority report upon the resolution declaring that the ratification of the Hay-Pauncefote treaty is not a condition precedent to the construction of the Nicaragua canal, and that the United States should proceed with that work, regardless of the existence of the Clayton-Bulwer agreement. The committee made an adverse report upon the resolution a few days ago, and Senator Morgan contended the wisdom of that action. Senator Morgan intimates that the adverse report was made to conform to the view of the president. On this point he says: "The resolutions have my hearty approval, and I cannot admit that the president has any right to direct congress as to the time when it is expedient to express approval of his solemn act of making these agreements with Nicaragua and Costa Rica. This claim was made in the committee, and his views as to the expediency of action were stated as grounds of objection to the resolutions. From this view of the duty of the senate, I wholly dissent."

In another connection, he says on the same point: "We are bound to agree with Costa Rica and Nicaragua as to the terms on which canal privileges will be extended to the United States, if this subject is to be settled by agreement. We have so agreed, and the question is whether it is a question of apprehension, or under a subordination to the criticism that British opinion may inflict upon us, we will permit that government to compel the president to abandon these agreements. They are honorable, just, lawful and inconceivably valuable, and once abandoned we cannot expect a peaceful resumption of them."

Mr. Morgan also takes the position that the president has already outlined the position of the United States toward the Clayton-Bulwer treaty by negotiating the protocols with Costa Rica and Nicaragua. "It is quite as clear," he says, "that the president in making these agreements in the name of the United States, definitely disregarded any claim of right that Great Britain could assert to the effect that her consent was necessary to such action on his part as president. And equally he asserted the right of congress to disregard any claims of Great Britain to prevent the acquisition of such rights from Costa Rica and Nicaragua, and to appropriate money for that distinct purpose. Beyond question he has bound himself as president and as plenipotentiary to these agreements, and if they violate the rights of Great Britain or give her just under the wrong and alone for it and repudiate and impeach what the president has done, or sustain his action."

Along the Mississippi river are points of commanding interest in history and tradition; two of especial traditional and scenic interest are:

Seventeen—Barn Bluff at Red Wing, one-half section.

Eighteen—Sugar Loaf mountain at Winona, one and a half sections.

It will be seen by consulting the map that the foregoing areas represent nearly every variety of surface conditions that may be met in the present. The student of forestry or the student of botany in a broader sense can investigate the study of biologic science in the lakes and marshes, sloughs and rivers.

He had been kindly in tone, when, behold, there was the woman again. She was praying for a ticket at the window just as the chopper was about to start. She approached the box, recognized the man, and uttered a few words of pathetic bewilderment.

"Oh, dear!" she gasped. "What have I done?"

There are two stairways to the down station at Thirty-third street, one on each side of the street. The chopper, following the porter's instructions literally, she had gone down one flight, crossed the street and crossed the tracks, and was about to cross the avenue she might have arrived at. She was looking back over her shoulder, and she was faithful to his direction. It was comical and pathetic at the same time. The porter, who had seen the chopper saw neither the humor nor the pathos of the situation. He was a good, old-fashioned woman, who was too confused and anxious to make protest or response. Or rather, she was too much of a woman to do either.

In one of the shops this morning I met an elderly acquaintance whose face was so familiar that I could not get away from the matter. "Do you know of some one who has been looking for a chopper?" she asked in return. Of course I did, and I knew well enough that she could not find it. I told her that I had never seen one for a great many years the house was a good deal larger than it was, and much of a fixture there as is the main stairway.

"I have had a distressing experience," she explained, "and one that, I regret to say, is all too common. A long time ago I was married to a very good-looking man and his wife who occupied two of the rooms and lived there almost all their married life."

They went away for a time in the summer but seldom for long, and at each time their quarters were not often occupied by other guests. Of course I came to be well acquainted with them, and I was sorry when a few years ago, they moved. I supposed, to another city. It seemed never left New York. The man's fortune had begun to dwindle, and when he got up his rooms at the hotel it was to save more economical quarters elsewhere. That had been very well to do when they were with us. Now it proves that the man's money has steadily left him until he has nothing. For some time they have been drifting along on small loans from friends, and he sees the end of help. Moreover, he is convinced at last that he must do something for himself, and it shows that real is his distress that he comes to me for suggestions. Says he is utterly unhelpful for any sort of business, which is true, but that he doesn't know how to earn a dollar, which is also true, and that his wife is equally helpless. But, as that solved he announces that both he and his wife are willing to face the situation and do anything for the sake of keeping afloat. What can I offer them? Nothing, and I said, the worst of it is that they are heartily contented now.

then this thing happens. People I used to know as rich turn up needy, homeless and helpless and expect me to turn them with some sort of employment."

New Models Follow Pretty Nearly the Lines Laid Down For Later Winter,
With Wide Brims the Exception.

New Shapes, Whether of Toques or Hats, Come Well On the Head.

It does not appear that any very important modifications are to be made in the shapes yet awhile, says the Paris correspondent of the Millinery Trade Review. The new spring models follow pretty nearly the lines laid down for latter winter. The crown may be a trifle lower than last year, and the brim coming forward a little lower toward the forehead and medium-sized hats, also low in the crown, divide the favor between them. For a time, at least, wide brims will be the exception. The change in this respect may be due to the fact that the milliner is a miser. Also it is not improbable that the improvement, noticeable in many of the new models, of having the crown of the hat trimming above the outline of the shape will gain ground, the shapes themselves being made to fit the head. It is very unlikely to be the case to a limited extent; the draperies and bows will continue to lie flat, and the crown will be made to fit from their recumbent position. It is a pity to draw the reader's attention away from the new spring millinery, which is a special feature of the new spring millinery. At the same time it is equally true that the new spring millinery will be the new shapes, whether of toques or hats, come well into the foreground, the opening of the crown being a trifle lower than last year, often literally lavished on the brim, accompanying the face in a very decided manner. The new spring millinery that the milliner may easily modify their forms according to her individual fancy. In spite of this, however, by no means many of the new spring models are not made up on ready-made shapes. It is even found preferable to make up a hat on a ready-made shape. One of the new ideas in spring millinery is to combine straw braids with satin. The straw braid is introduced into the trimming. For instance, on three-inch wide braids being procured in the market, the straw braid is cut into three or four folds of gossamer (often in as many colors); then they are sewed into the trimmings, and the straw braid is edge uppermost. Straws so treated are called "volle." Another idea is to make the straw braid into a net foundation, either side by side, or as to touch, and with a narrow interstices between the strands. The bands of satin straw are used instead of braids. They may be laid on flat or curved, and the straw braid may be from an inch, so as to form a loop or set very closely together, the goal of the shape; it is only on close inspection that the willie foundation becomes apparent. The new spring millinery may be such an arrangement of gold-colored satin straw. Strips gossamer, brown or black, may be introduced into the pressed into the service for covering the whole or a portion of net shapes. The straw braid may be introduced into the mixed with the gossamer, the latter the appearance of a large full-blown rose, being entirely composed of a number of narrow gathered frills of tulle, each bordered with fine gold or silver cord. Others are made of frills of tulle, on which are sewn gold lace, alternating with cross-cut folds of lise.

The use of several layers of different colored tulle, giving a glace effect, is a novelty that deserves to be particularly noted. White and black tulle, dotted over with specks of gold, will be in considerable demand, also black tulle covered pretty closely with square black spangles. These square spangles are a novelty of the season. I have seen this spangled tulle used with great effect in the bordering of turban toques, made of white tulle, caught together by a jet buckle and trimmed with white algrette.

A certain proportion of the new moderns has no apparent shape, and the foundation for this being provided is the white wired net. In many cases this is used in the construction of the flower, due to the circumstances; for example, if overlaid with a large flat bow, the loops of the net are required to be flat, extending over its sides, and on which the loops will rest. Also, since the loops are not required to be raised, they are "lified" on the left side—not necessarily turned up—there is a substance which is used in the construction of the net, takes the form of a piece of wired net, straight at the bottom and curved at the top. This is used in the construction of the flower more often than not, receives sufficient trimming to conceal it entirely, but not so much as to make it impossible to see the silk or velvet put on plain—no flowers. Flowers are most frequently chosen as their trimming, particularly the very large ones, which are used in the construction of a tulip-shaped center, especially favored in cream white and pink. The net is used, and the net, one blossom is sufficient.

SCHLEY VERY GENEROUS

Willing That Admiral Sampson Should Be Advanced Over Him If Grade of Vice Admiral Be Revived.

Washington, Feb. 25.—(Special to The Herald.)—Rear Admiral Schley will not ask his friends to oppose the nomination of Rear Admiral Sampson to a higher number in the rank of vice admiral, if that grade be revived. This information has been received from Rear Admiral Schley by an officer commanding a vessel in the Santiago sea fight, and who may be regarded as possibly his warmest supporter among the captains taking part in that engagement. This officer believes that Schley has never carried much about the advancement of Sampson, although this is not by any means the opinion of a great many other of his friends. On good authority it is asserted that the adherents of Schley in congress will be informed that he is perfectly willing to accept the rank of vice admiral with one number below that of Sampson. The officer to whom Admiral Schley's views have been made known is not hopeful that the bill will be passed this session, but should it pass, he believes an end of the controversy between Sampson and Schley advocates would be reached. However, even if, as his naval friend says, Admiral Schley is so generous as to be willing to step aside for Sampson, it is not so certain his friends in the senate will be equally generous, and indeed, they are entirely satisfied he sincerely desires it.

A statement was made to The Herald correspondent by a naval officer of high rank which, if verified before the senate, may have an important bearing on this controversy. It is said that Sampson never wrote, or saw before it was sent, the famous dispatch announcing the victory. It is said in his hurry he requested one of his staff to send the dispatch announcing the victory, but with no suggestion as to the terms to be employed.

West Point graduates, for the first time in the history of that institution, may have their preferences in assignments to the various arms of the service. An order has been prepared assigning the seventy-two young men who received their diplomas on Feb. 18, and directing them to report for duty on March 10.

FINEST IN THE WORLD.

That's What the Contractor Says of the Pago Pago Station.

San Francisco, Feb. 25.—Robert Tibbitts, the contractor, who for the last seven months has been building the United States government coaling station and pier in the harbor of Pago Pago, in the Samoan islands, has arrived here. He says the pier and other structures, which are situated on a very steep hill, will be completed in about three months. The pier is 365 feet long and 50 feet wide. It is made entirely of steel. All the piles are of steel. They measure 9 inches in diameter, and vary in length from 30 to 150 feet. On the shore just back of the projecting pier is a large steel building, 150 feet long by 100 feet wide. This is to be a repository for 1,000 tons of coal. Another similar building is to be erected. Mr. Tibbitts declares "Pago Pago is the finest coaling station in the world."

TAYLOR IS HERE

Deputy Bates Arrives From Seattle With Man Wanted For Bigamy.

DENIES THE CHARGE

Even Claims That the Wife He Married Here Deserted Him.

James A. Taylor, the alleged bigamist, arrested recently in Seattle, was among the prisoners arraigned in municipal court today. He has lost his debonair ways and his marvelous nerve. He does not look, dress or act like the same man who came to Duluth two years ago, claiming to be a wealthy ranchman from Montana. He seemed dispirited and was very nervous, especially when the court announced that his bail would be $200 in order to guarantee his presence in court Thursday afternoon.

Deputy Sheriff Bates arrived from Seattle with the prisoner yesterday morning. Taylor came along willingly enough, but now that he is here he seems to feel that he made a mistake by not fighting his case from the start.

He was arraigned on a complaint sworn out by Joseph Campbell, brother-in-law of Gertrude Adams Taylor, the young woman whom he is charged to have married illegally on May 15 last. The complaint sets forth that Taylor was first married to Florence Pope in Seattle on Nov. 1, 1888.

The prisoner was nervous during the reading of the charges against him. He was apparently ready to enter a plea of not guilty, but on such a serious charge he was not allowed to plead. He was asked by the court whether he would be ready for an examination and he said "immediately."

County Attorney McClintock was then asked when the prosecution would be ready and replied that he was ready to bring witnesses from a distance, the state would be sufficient to come up Thursday afternoon.

Taylor said that he would like to have it come up sooner and asked if he could be allowed out on bail. Judge Edison looked up the law and found that the finding of bail was within his power as the maximum penalty for bigamy in this state is but five years.

The court then asked the county attorney what he would require in the matter of bail and Mr. McClintock replied that he thought $200 would be sufficient. Taylor evidently thought that it was more than sufficient for he showed renewed nervousness and protested against that amount, saying that he might be able to raise $100, but $200 was out of the question. He said:

"If the court please, I think that $100 bail would guarantee my presence here. I came here from Seattle willingly and I will stay and see this matter through."

Judge Edison replied that he would raise the bail at $100, but $200 was out of the question. He said:

"Many of those that had known Taylor here and had reason to remember him, expressed themselves as surprised at the change in him. He has dropped his Westward look, and his manner of dress and action would scarcely be able to deceive anyone."

None of his second wife's family was in court this morning and Taylor was evidently disappointed. He examined the faces of all in the room very closely as if he expected to find some of his relatives.

He himself is a brother-in-law for having him arrested and even has the audacity to intimate that Gertrude Adams Taylor deserted him, instead of being seduced by him, as he has been charged.

P. W. Jacobus of Iron River, Wis.,
Found in Room
at Hotel St. Louis.

P. W. Jacobus, of Iron River, Wis., was found lying in a room assigned to him to which he was assigned on his way to the Hotel St. Louis. The post mortem examination has not yet been held, but it is believed that the cause has been apoplexy. Mr. Jacobus has visited the city many times and his whereabouts were well known there. He came in on Saturday night and in the evening retired to the room assigned to him. It is not the custom to call the guests of the hotel at night, and it is believed that the fact of non-appearance on that day was not noticed. The room assigned to him was a single room which is usually assigned to day sleepers. He was not therefore disturbed by the cleaning of the room. His efforts were made to raise some money in the morning, and when he was unable to do so he entered and he was found dead in the bed about 10 o'clock. He was not seen until Saturday night. There was not a sign of his having been out of the room after he had retired. The appearance of the body was such as to indicate apoplexy.

Mr. Jacobus was a barber by trade and was about 60 years of age. He was high in the scale of money making, had a college degree and was also a Knight Templar. He frequently came to Duluth to attend Masonic functions. He leaves a wife.

Millions of people are familiar with De Witt's Little Early Risers and those who have used them will be glad to hear of the new pills. Never give Max Wirth.
